Observation of the Earth and Its Environment Herbert J. Kramer, 2012-12-06 The following listing represents a survey and short descriptions of Earth Observing Missions in alphabetical order. The listing in Part A considers completed operational as well as planned missions on an international scale. Earth observations from space know no national boundaries. A look into past activities is important for reasons of heritage, context, and perspective. The document is intended for all who want to keep track of missions and sensors in the fast growing field of Earth observation. There cannot be any claim to completeness although a considerable effort was made to collect and integrate all known missions and sensors into this book. Earth observation by remote sensing changes our view and perception of the world. We begin to realize the global character of remote sensing, its multidimensional and complementary nature, its vast potential to many disciplines, its importance to mankind as a whole Remote sensing permits for the first time in history a total system view of the Earth The view from space toward Earth has brought about sweeping revisions in the Earth sciences in particular in such fields as meteorology oceanology hydrology geology geography forestry agriculture geodynamics solar terrestrial interactions and many others

CephInAction: Towards Future Challenges for Cephalopod Science Lindy Holden-Dye, Giovanna Ponte, Graziano Fiorito, A. Louise Allcock, Ryuta Nakajima, Erica A. G. Vidal, Tarla Rai Peterson, 2020-02-12 The last five years have been extremely challenging but also very innovative for cephalopod science and the outstanding tradition of biological contribution with cephalopod molluscs as key players in science and human activities and interests has continued This Research Topic is one of several dedicated to cephalopod molluscs e.g. Hanke and Osorio 2018 Ponte et al 2018 hosted by Frontiers over the last few years not to mention other papers published separately Highlighting of cephalopod science is important because it has much to offer not only the life science community but also more broadly the public perception of science and its understanding and relationship with scientific endeavour and cephalopods as living organisms and part of our everyday life at least for most of us This contribution illustrates the key needs that need to be overcome by the cephalopod

research community i.e rapid and effective mechanisms for exchange of knowledge and resources sharing of laboratory protocols videos tissues samples and data sets innovative approaches and initiatives in public engagement The cuttlefish comic included is an excellent example of a type of media that can be used to expand scientific knowledge to the public and human relationship with live animals There are strategic challenges in convincing globally distributed policy makers and funders of the relevance of cephalopods in scientific advances and also in the regulatory aspects since cephalopods are the only invertebrates whose use is regulated in Europe in a research context and this increases the need for integrated oversight and direction in terms of ethics and animal welfare e.g Jacquet et al 2019a 2019b Ponte et al 2019 This Research Topic also aligns with the interests of the cephalopod community in stimulating public interest in cephalopods extending to a broader audience that could include chefs and gourmets and fishers and scientists aiming to develop sustainable food resources CephInAction Towards Future Challenges for Cephalopod Science Research Topic includes 14 papers from about 40 authors representing ten different countries thus overlapping with the original parties that contributed to the COST FA1301 that together with CephRes promoted and supported this editorial initiative
