Asianet Channel Live:

Indian Silver Screen Dr. Paramveer Singh, 2021-08-05 Indian Silver Screen Television in India has been a medium of entertainment as well as social and economic awareness. It was started under government control as a medium of social awareness but now this medium has become an industry. There was a time when Doordarshan was the only channel on television in India but today hundreds of channels broadcast programs day and night. In India today there are many channels based on sports, news, film, documentary, and music. There was a time when television programs could be viewed only through television sets but today through devices such as computers, laptops, and mobiles, viewers can watch their favorite programs at their convenient location and time. The main objective of this book written on Indian television is to make students aware of the history and status of Indian television. The book begins with the story of the introduction of television in various countries. It describes the development of television in Britain, America, Australia, China, Africa, and other countries of the continent of Asia. After this, the early experiments, projects, and history and current status of television in India are told. Many of the chapters in the book are about the major television business groups in India that have deep penetration into the Indian television industry. The book also introduces programs that have become famous in India which have proved to be milestones in Indian television history and reached heights of popularity. Apart from this, the book describes the laws of India which have been implemented to control the television industry. A chapter in the book is written about various television broadcasting techniques practiced in the country. Apart from this, there is a chapter about Direct to Home which tells the story of the development of DTH in India. Television rating points determine the popularity of television channels and programs. The book introduces various agencies and institutions that determine TRP in India. In addition to this, the history of television journalism in India has also been discussed. A chapter about television journalism in various languages of India such as Hindi, Punjabi, Gujarati, Marathi, Tamil, Telugu, Kannada, Malayalam, Bengali, and Assamese is described in detail. The last chapter of the book discusses various international television channels that are broadcasting in India. The Caravan Delhi Press, 2017-12-18 The country's first and only publication devoted to narrative journalism. The Caravan occupies a singular position among Indian magazines. It is a new kind of magazine for a new kind of reader, one who demands both style and substance. Since its relaunch in January 2010, the magazine has earned a reputation as one of the country's most sophisticated publications, a showcase for the region's finest writers, and a distinctive blend of rigorous reporting, incisive criticism, and commentary, stunning photo essays, and gripping new fiction and poetry. Its commitment to great storytelling has earned it the respect of readers from around the world. India's best English language magazine, The Guardian, London. For those with an interest in India, it has become an absolute must-read. The New Republic, Washington. The Caravan fills a niche in the Indian media that has remained vacant for far too long, catering to the intellectually curious and aesthetically refined reader who seeks a magazine of exceptional quality. Regional Language Television in India Mira K. Desai, 2021-11-21 This book examines the evolution and journey of regional language television channels in India The first of its kind it looks at the coverage uniqueness ownership and audiences of regional channels in 14 different languages across India covering Hindi Bengali Marathi Telugu Tamil Urdu Assamese Bhojpuri Gujarati Kannada Kashmiri Odia Punjabi and Malayalam It brings together researchers scholars media professionals and communication teachers to document and reflect on language as the site of culture politics market and social representation The volume discusses multiple media histories and their interlinkages from a subcontinental perspective by exploring the trajectories of regional language television through geographical boundaries state language identities and culture It offers comparative analyses across regional language television channels and presents interpretive insights on television culture and commerce contemporary challenges mass media technology and future relevance Rich in empirical data this book will be an essential read for scholars and researchers of media studies television studies communication studies sociology political studies language studies regional studies and South Asian studies It will also be useful to professionals and industry bodies in television media and is broadcasting journalists and television channels

I, Athira... S Athira,2024 Some features of this book Athira provides a personal account revealing how radical religious groups manipulate individuals into converting initially fostering a sense of aversion to their own culture and religion then to their society country family and eventually their own identity This book offers guidance on how to rehabilitate and help those who have lost their ability to think critically and logically after being influenced by extremist ideologies through the process of Spiritual Counselling This book is for all religious converts and those who are on the verge of converting A patient reading of this book will surely make you rethink your decision to convert
