National Transportation Safety Board,2007 On December 8 2005 about 1914 central standard time Southwest Airlines SWA flight 1248 a Boeing 737 7H4 N471WN ran off the departure end of runway 31C after landing at Chicago Midway International Airport Chicago Illinois The airplane rolled through a blast fence an airport perimeter fence and onto an adjacent roadway where it struck an automobile before coming to a stop A child in the automobile was killed one automobile occupant received serious injuries and three other automobile occupants received minor injuries Eighteen of the 103 airplane occupants 98 passengers 3 flight attendants and 2 pilots received minor injuries and the airplane was substantially damaged The airplane was being operated under the provisions of 14 Code of Federal Regulations Part 121 and had departed from Baltimore Washington International Thurgood Marshall Airport Baltimore Maryland about 1758 eastern standard time Instrument meteorological conditions prevailed at the time of the accident flight which operated on an instrument flight rules flight plan The National Transportation Safety Board determined that the probable cause of this accident was the pilots failure to use available reverse thrust in a timely manner to safely slow or stop the airplane after landing which resulted in a runway overrun This failure occurred because the pilots first experience and lack of familiarity with the airplane autobrake system distracted them from thrust reverser usage during the challenging landing snip The safety issues discussed in this report include the flight crew s decisions and actions the clarity of assumptions used in on board performance computers SWA policies guidance and training arrival landing distance assessments and safety margins runway surface condition assessments and braking action reports airplane based friction measurements and runway safety areas P ix National Transportation Safety Board Decisions United States. Critical Lapses in Federal Aviation Administration's Safety Oversight of Airlines: Abuses of Regulatory Partnership Programs James Oberstar,2009-12 Hearing to review the results of an oversight investigation Two FAA Aviation Safety Inspectors have provided evidence raising serious questions of conduct violating the Fed Aviation Reg s FARs in the inspection and maint program of Southwest Airlines SWA FAA employees have engaged in conduct which constitutes a violation of Fed law rule or reg n gross mismgt an abuse of authority and a substantial damage to public safety The Maint Inspector for SWA knowingly allowed the airline to operate in March 2007 and possibly beyond and well after the inspection deadlines on a mandatory FAA Airworthiness Directive There may be a pattern of regulatory abuse and that these regulatory lapses may be more widespread Illustrations Critical Lapses in Federal Aviation Administration Safety Oversight of Airlines United States. Congress. House. Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure,2008 The Limits of Expertise R. Key Dismukes,Benjamin A. Berman,Loukia Loukopoulos,2017-03-02 Why would highly skilled well trained pilots make errors that lead to accidents when they had safely completed many thousands of previous flights The majority of all aviation accidents are attributed primarily to human error but this is often misinterpreted as evidence of lack of skill vigilance or conscientiousness of the pilots The Limits of Expertise is a fresh look at the causes of pilot error and aviation accidents arguing that accidents can be understood only in the context of how the overall aviation system operates The authors analyzed in great depth the 19 major U S airline accidents from 1991 2000 in which the National Transportation Safety Board NTSB found crew error to be a causal factor Each accident is reviewed in a separate chapter that examines events and crew actions and explores the cognitive processes in play at each step The approach is guided by extensive evidence from cognitive psychology that human skill and error are opposite sides of the same coin The book examines the ways in which competing task demands ambiguity and organizational pressures interact with cognitive processes to make all experts vulnerable to characteristic forms of error The final chapter identifies themes cutting across the accidents discusses the role of chance criticizes simplistic concepts of causality of accidents and suggests ways to reduce vulnerability to these catastrophes The authors complementary experience allowed a unique approach to the study accident investigation with the NTSB cognitive psychology research both in the lab and in the field enormous first hand experience of piloting and application of aviation psychology in both civil and military operations This combination allowed the authors to examine and explain the domain specific aspects of aviation operations and to extend advances in basic research in cognition to complex issues of human performance in the real world Although The Limits of Expertise is directed to aviation operations the implications are clear for understanding the decision processes skilled performance and errors of professionals in many domains including medicine
