Directions: Work on these sheets. Answer completely, but be concise. A Normal probability table and a t table will be provided.

Part 1: Multiple Choice. Circle the letter corresponding to the best answer.

1. You want to compute a 90% confidence interval for the mean of a population with unknown population standard deviation. The sample size is 30. The value of  $t^*$  you would use for this interval is:
  - (a) 1.96
  - (b) 1.645
  - (c) 1.699
  - (d) 0.90
  - (e) 1.311
  - (f) None of the above
2. A polling organization announces that the proportion of American voters who favor congressional term limits is 64%, with a 95% confidence margin of error of 3%. This means:
  - (a) If the poll were conducted again in the same way, there is a 95% chance that the fraction of voters favoring term limits in the second poll would be between 61% and 67%.
  - (b) There is a 95% probability that the true percent of voters favoring term limits is between 61% and 67%.
  - (c) If the poll were conducted again the same way, there is a 95% probability that the percent of voters favoring term limits in the second poll would be within 3% of the percent favoring term limits in the first poll.
  - (d) Among 95% of the voters, between 61% and 67% favor term limits.
  - (e) None of the above.
3. A radio talk show host with a large audience is interested in the proportion  $p$  of adults in his listening area who think the drinking age should be lowered to eighteen. To find this out he poses the following question to his listeners. "Do you think that the drinking age should be reduced to eighteen in light of the fact that eighteen-year-olds are eligible for military service?" He asks listeners to phone in and vote "Yes" if they agree the drinking age should be lowered and "No" if not. Of the 100 people who phoned in, 70 answered "Yes." Which of the following conditions for inference about a proportion using a confidence interval are violated?
  - (a) The data are an SRS from the population of interest.
  - (b) The population is at least 10 times as large as the sample.
  - (c)  $n$  is so large that both the count of successes  $np$  and the count of failures  $n(1 - p)$  are 10 or more.
  - (d) There appear to be no violations.
  - (e) More than one condition is violated.
