Five years ago, businessman Simon Woodroffe had a good idea. He was in first class on an international flight when he decided to open a hotel. The bed in the airplane gave him an idea. He could open a hotel with rooms like the sleeping area in an airplane. Now, therefore, in some of Britain's airports, there is a very small, low-cost room. The rooms are very small, only seven square metres, but they are very convenient. They are for the expert, as travellers who want only a night's sleep and a shower can save money and travelling time. Woodroffe calls his hotel 'Yotel'. Each room has a TV, a desk and a shower and costs £10. You can pay £10 for a bigger room that has a toilet. Press a button, and the room changes to a bed. The small rooms are very popular with travellers. Woodroffe thinks he will open more Yotels in other countries.

Woodroffe thinks Yotel will succeed.
