Subba Reddy & A. Jyotsna, 2018-01-01 Globalization has given the world opportunities to bring people together in ways previously undreamt of in both real and virtual worlds. However, it has privileged industrialized capitalist growth and initiated a series of environmental, financial, demographic, and political crises. The poorest people on the planet have been most adversely affected through loss of jobs, low paid work that is insufficient to provide a decent standard of living, health hazards, rising food and energy prices, environmental degradation, armed conflict, and resource depletion. In this context, the Millennium Development Goals (MDGs) which had looked to a more prosperous future for the planet's most disadvantaged people only a few years ago are unlikely to be met across the board. And the challenges of environmental degradation question the very relevance of the MDG targets in contemporary societies.
