Blood On The Streets 1916 The Battle For Mount Street Bridge:

Blood on the Streets Paul O'Brien, 2008 Blood on the Streets explores the people the places and the context of the real events of the battle for Mount Street Bridge Based around the bridge over the canal at Mount Street three well positioned groups of volunteers led by Lieutenant Michael Malone held out against a far greater number of British soldiers arriving from Kingstown In scenes that were reminiscent of the terrible warfare of the Western Front in World War I British soldiers advanced under heavy fire against rebel positions This book contextualises the battle and the events surrounding the Rising itself and features the only account written by a British army officer of the executions at Kilmainham jail in the aftermath of the Rising It also features a fascinating analysis of the tactics and strategy not just of the battle but of the whole Rising

When the Clock Struck in 1916 Derek Molyneux, Darren Kelly, 2015-03-20 Well I've helped to wind up the clock I might as well hear it strike Michael Joseph O'Rahilly The Easter Rising of 1916 was a seminal moment in Ireland's turbulent history For the combatants it was a no holds barred clash the professional army of an empire against a highly motivated well drilled force of volunteers What did the men and women who fought on the streets of Dublin endure during those brutal days after the clock struck on 24 April 1916 For them the conflict was a mix of bloody fighting and energy sapping waiting with meagre supplies of food and water little chance to rest and the terror of imminent attacks The experiences recounted here include those of 20 year old Sean McLoughlin who went from Volunteer to Captain to Commandant General in five days his cool head under fire saved many of his comrades Volunteer Robert Holland a sharpshooter who continued to fire despite punishing rifle recoil Volunteer Thomas Young's mother who acted as a scout leading a section through enemy infested streets the 27th Sherwood Foresters NCO who died when the grenade he threw at Clanwilliam House bounced off the wall and exploded next to his head 2nd Lieutenant Guy Vickery Pinfield of the 8th Royal Hussars who led the charge on the main gate of Dublin Castle and became the first British officer to die in the Rising This account of the major engagements of Easter Week 1916 takes us onto the shelled and bullet ridden streets of Dublin with the foot soldiers on both sides of the conflict into the collapsing buildings and through the gunsmoke

Uncommon Valour Paul O'Brien, 2010 A look at the Irish Volunteers who fought in the South Dublin Union building during the 1916 Easter Rising

Those of Us Who Must Die Derek Molyneux, Darren Kelly, 2017-11-10 The 1916 Rising is one of the most documented and analysed episodes in Ireland's turbulent history Often overlooked however is its immediate aftermath This significant window in the narrative of Irish revolutionary history which saw the rebirth of the Volunteers and laid the foundations for the War of Independence is usually covered as a footnote or from the biographical standpoints of the leaders Picking up where the authors acclaimed account of the Rising When the Clock Struck in 1916 left off we join the men and women of the Rising in the dark abyss of defeat The leaders poignant final hours and violent ends are laid bare but the perspective of those with the unpalatable task of carrying out the executions is also revealed rectifying a historic disservice to those who reluctantly formed the firing squads While the prisoners in Dublin awaited their grisly fates others were deported in stinking cattle boats to camps in England and Wales When they returned it was to a jubilant welcome in a radically changed country The gruesome death of Thomas Ashe in September 1917 after being force fed in Mountjoy Prison became a marshalling point for the republican movement as his funeral saw Volunteers once again assembled in uniform on Dublin s streets The next phase of the struggle was born under new leaders who had graduated from the internment camps known as Republican Universities ready and eager to fill the void left by the executed visionaries The authors sifted through thousands of first hand accounts of the suffering endured when ordinary people set out to change history Their stirring account will transport readers into life as it looked sounded and even smelt to those taking part in this crucial juncture of our history According to their Lights Neil Richardson,2015-09-21 e eclectic scientist and inventor Prof John Joly from Co Offaly who at fifty eight helped to defend Trinity College Dublin throughout the Rising Many enlisted to fight for Irish Home Rule or Ulster Unionism to find adventure or escape from poverty None imagined they would find themselves on the streets of Dublin killing and being killed by fellow Irishmen Forty one Irishmen in the British army died in action during the Rising 106 were wounded These men became a forgotten part of their country s history Also available Blackpool to the Front A Cork Suburb and Ireland s Great War 1914 1918 by Mark Cronin and When the Clock Struck in 1916 Close Quarter Combat in the Easter Rising by Derek Molyneux Darren Kelly

Diarmuid Lynch Eileen McGough,2013-05-20 On Saturday night 22 April 1916 a tense meeting in Dublin went on into the small hours to decide whether or not the Easter Rising would go ahead Present at that meeting were P draig Pearse Tom s MacDonagh Joseph Plunkett and Se n MacDiarmada The fifth man present at the all night session Diarmuid Lynch was the only one still alive a month later It is difficult to understand how Lynch a member of the Supreme Council of the IRB has been forgotten so completely Lynch was at the heart of plans for the Rising and was aide de camp to James Connolly in the GPO Initially sentenced to death his sentence was commuted to ten years penal servitude because he was an American citizen However he was released on 16 June 1917 Immediately following his release Lynch became active again and along with Michael Collins and Thomas Ashe participated in the reorganisation of the IRB After the 1917 Sinn F in Ard Fheis Lynch like Collins held three senior posts in the IRB Sinn F in and in the Irish Volunteers He was again arrested and deported to America in 1918 Lynch was elected although still in the US as a TD for the constituency of Cork South East in the 1918 elections In America he was working frenetically as the national secretary of the FOIF Friends of Irish Freedom organisation but later sharp differences arose between De Valera and the FOIF about how funds raised in America should be spent Lynch did not take part in the Civil War but made several unsuccessful attempts to stop it Wherever the Firing Line Extends Ronan McGreevy,2016-06-02 The First World War was the biggest conflict in Irish history More men served and more men died than in all the wars before or since that the Irish fought in Often forgotten at home and written out of Irish history the Irish soldiers and their regiments found themselves more honoured in foreign fields From the first shot monument in Mons to the plaque to the Royal Irish Lancers who liberated the town on Armistice Day 1918 Ronan McGreevy takes a tour of the Western Front At a time when Ireland is revisiting its history and its place in the world McGreevy looks at those places where the Irish made their mark and are remembered in the monuments cemeteries and landscapes of France and Flanders
