Notes on Books, Being a Quaterly Analysis of the Works Published by Messrs. Longmans and Co., 1885 The Rise of Animals and Descent of Man, 1660-1800 John Morillo, 2017-11-22 The Rise of Animals and the Descent of Man illuminates compelling historical connections between a current fascination with animal life and the promotion of the moral status of non human animals as ethical subjects deserving our attention and respect and a deep interest in the animal as agent in eighteenth century literate culture It explores how writers including well known poets important authors who mixed art and science and largely forgotten writers of sermons and children s stories all offered innovative alternatives to conventional narratives about the meaning of animals in early modern Europe They question Descartes claim that animals are essentially soulless machines incapable of thought or feelings British writers from 1660 1800 remain informed by Cartesianism but often counter it by recognizing that feelings are as important as reason when it comes to defining animal life and its relation to human life This British line of thought deviates from Descartes by focusing on fine feeling as a register of moral life empowered by sensibility and sympathy but this very stance is complicated by cultural fears that too much kindness to animals can entail too much kinship with them fears made famous in the later reaction to Darwinian evolution The Rise of Animals uncovers ideological tensions between sympathy for animals and a need to defend the special status of humans from the rapidly developing Darwinian perspective The writers it examines engage in complex negotiations with sensibility and a wide range of philosophical and theological traditions Their work anticipates posthumanist thought and the challenges it poses to traditional humanist values within the humanities and beyond The Rise of Animals is a sophisticated intellectual history of the origins of our changing attitudes about animals that at the same time illuminates major currents of eighteenth century British literary culture Summary of Investigations Relating to Reading William Scott Gray, 1925 Notes on Books, 1875 Summary of Investigations Relating to Reading International Reading Association, 1981 The Routledge International Handbook of Human-Animal Interactions and Anthrozoology Aubrey H. Fine, Megan K. Mueller, Zenithson Y. Ng, Alan M. Beck, Jose M. Peralta, 2023-09-26 This diverse global and interdisciplinary volume explores the existing research practice and ethical issues pertinent to the field of human animal interactions HAIs interventions and anthrozoology focusing on the perceived physical and mental health benefits to humans and the challenges derived from these relationships. The book begins by exploring the basic theoretical principles of anthrozoology and HAI such as the evolution and history of the field, the importance of language, the economic costs and current perspectives to physical and mental wellbeing, the origins of domestication of animals, anthropomorphism and how animals fit into human societies. Chapters then move onto practice covering topics such as how animals help childhood and adulthood development, pet ownership, disability, the roles of pets for people with psychiatric disorders, the links between animal and domestic abuse and then more widely into the therapeutic roles of animals, animal assisted therapies, interactions outside the home, working animals, animals in popular culture and animals in research for leisure and food. Including chapters on a wide range of animals from domesticated pets to wildlife, this collection examines the benefits yet also reveals the complexity and often dark side of human animal relations. Interweaving accessible commentaries with revealing chapters throughout the text, this collection would be of great interest to students and practitioners in the fields of mental health, psychology, veterinary medicine, zoology, biology, social work, history and sociology.
