Embodiment of Divine Knowledge in Early Judaism Andrei A. Orlov,2021-11-11 This book explores the early Jewish understanding of divine knowledge as divine presence which is embodied in major biblical exemplars such as Adam Enoch

Jacob and Moses The study treats the concept of divine knowledge as the embodied divine presence in its full historical and interpretive complexity by tracing the theme through a broad variety of ancient Near Eastern and Jewish sources including Mesopotamian traditions of cultic statues creational narratives of the Hebrew Bible and later Jewish mystical testimonies Orlov demonstrates that some biblical and pseudepigraphical accounts postulate that the theophany expresses the unique corporeal nature of the deity that cannot be fully grasped or conveyed in some other non corporeal symbolism medium or language The divine presence requires another presence in order to be transmitted To be communicated properly and in its full measure the divine iconic knowledge must be written on a new living body which can hold the ineffable presence of God through a newly acquired ontology Embodiment of Divine Knowledge in Early Judaism will provide an invaluable research to students and scholars in a wide range of areas within Jewish Near Eastern and Biblical Studies as well as those studying religious elements of anthropology philosophy sociology psychology and gender studies Through the study of Jewish mediatorial figures this book also elucidates the roots of early Christological developments making it attractive to Christian audiences

Paul's doctrine of election has remained a controversial and enigmatic topic for centuries. Few studies however have approached Paul's doctrine through the context of Second Temple Judaism. This study examines Paul's view of election through the lens of Second Temple Jewish texts written prior to 70 CE. In doing so it is argued that the best framework through which to view Paul's discussion of election is through a primarily corporate model of election. While such a model is rooted in Judaism Paul departs from his Jewish contemporaries in arguing that the locus of election is in God's Messiah Jesus.
