Plant Molecular Biology — A Laboratory Manual Melody S. Clark, 2013-11-27 The aim of this manual is to encompass a broad range of the latest plant molecular biology techniques However it is acknowledged that any manual will be read and hopefully used by a wide range of people with different levels of experience Hence the remit of the manual was widened to include a full range of basic molecular techniques so that novices do not have to consult several texts to enable the execution of each major experiment The manual is divided into three main parts Part I Basic Molecular Techniques The reason behind this part is to provide a background knowledge of molecular techniques but also to reduce duplication in later chapters this is particularly true of the methods contained in Chap 1 All authors provided very detailed methods and often forgot that some of these would be covered earlier A particular favourite was DNA extraction methods where everyone managed to provide a slightly different variant My view was that it is far less confusing for the reader to be presented with one standard protocol and accompanying troubleshooting tips than to read a different version in each chapter In this way the basic techniques are addressed more in depth and my apologies to all authors for judicious use of the delete key RNA methodology is covered in Chapter 3 This proceeds from the fundamentals of extraction northern blotting etc to cDNA libraries

Proteins James J. L'Italien,2012-12-06 This volume surveys the current status of many of the important methods and approaches which are central to the study of protein structure and function Many of the articles in this volume are written to emphasize the general utility of the method or approach which is at its core and to provide sufficient literature references to enable the reader to adapt the method or approach to other applications It is hoped that this volume will provide a source from which newcomers as well as experienced scientists may become more familiar with recent developments and future trends in some of the important areas of protein research The articles which comprise this book are selected proceedings from the Symposium of American Protein Chemists which was held in San Diego California September 30 to October 3 1985 The goal of the organizers of this first symposium was to provide a forum for discussion and interaction among scientists whose interests span the broad spectrum of protein structure and function research The concept and timing of the symposium well received as evidenced by the approximately 500 delegates to the symposium The inaugural meeting was marked by a strong scientific program with over 140 papers presented in either a lecture or poster format      Laboratory
