Enlightening the process of technical leadership is fundamentally about bringing greater self awareness to our technology work This book presents an introspective approach Start with your talent Refine switch and let go of your mental models Understand your sense of abundance as well as your sense of scarcity Learn from your reactions of dislike and admiration Observe how you set and form expectations when you communicate Identify the polarities that contain contrasting perspectives Realize from what you can virtualize There are many aspects of technical leadership Some books focus on strategy and systems Others focus on teamwork and interpersonal skills Still others focus on creativity and innovation And of course there are plenty of books devoted to the technologies themselves This book focuses on the self awareness that enables and transforms our capabilities in all of these areas Effective Programming: More Than Writing Code Jeff

Atwood, 2012-07-24 Jeff Atwood began the Coding Horror blog in 2004 and is convinced that it changed his life He needed a way to keep track of software development over time whatever he was thinking about or working on He researched subjects he found interesting then documented his research with a public blog post which he could easily find and refer to later Over time increasing numbers of blog visitors found the posts helpful relevant and interesting Now approximately 100 000 readers visit the blog per day and nearly as many comment and interact on the site Effective Programming More Than Writing Code is your one stop shop for all things programming Jeff writes with humor and understanding allowing for both seasoned programmers and newbies to appreciate the depth of his research From such posts as The Programmer's Bill of Rights and Why Can't Programmers Program to Working With the Chaos Monkey this book introduces the importance of writing responsible code the logistics involved and how people should view it more as a lifestyle than a career How to Save a

Your Company's Type will help you find the best strategies for success for your unique business. Every year businesses needlessly fail because they adapted the wrong strategies suited for their organization's strengths. A mid-tier retail chain is derailed by leadership demands for superior products instead of reliably low prices. A software giant is brought to its knees by prioritizing profits over innovation. A small arts college is destabilized by top-down rules designed for a predictable and dependable company. There is no one size fits all game plan for success when it comes to the wide array of businesses today. Success starts with knowing the kind of business you're really in. In Lead Right for Your Company's Type learn the four categories that every enterprise falls into depending on their customer promise: customized e.g. ad agency, predictable and dependable e.g. utility company, benevolent e.g. educational institution, and best in class e.g. high tech company like Apple. Then follow a proven five-step process to help you in diagnosing your organization's ills and stop them at their source. Apply the wrong practices and the mismatch pulls the enterprise apart. However, when leadership practices fit the customer promise and company type, the organization thrives.

The Blind Men and the Elephant David A. Schmaltz, 2003-04-09

Using a familiar metaphor, the creator of True North's Mastering Projects Workshop and Sun Microsystems Inc's Project Sun Workshop shows readers how anyone can transform a fuzzy project assignment into a meaningful, satisfying experience.

Manage Your Job Search Johanna Rothman, 2015-08-13

A job search is an emergent project. How do you handle an emergent project? By creating a system that allows for serendipity and flexibility: personal kanban and one-week timeboxes. Once you have a system, you can use the tips in Part 2 to prepare for your job search: choose your career, write your resume, prepare for your interviews, and decide how you will decide on an offer. In Part 3 you'll learn how to network without feeling slimy. You'll learn to build your target network: where to look for the jobs that you need and how to spot the warning signs of a job that organizations might no longer need. There are many traps for unsuspecting job hunters, so Part 4 has a section on traps to avoid and tips to try. If you're in special circumstances such as being a new grad in a career transition or over 50, then Part 5 is for you. Even if you've been diligent, any job search can take more than three months. Part 6 addresses your feelings and how to persevere when your search seems as if it takes forever. Written with her trademark practicality, humor, and empathy, Johanna will help you learn how to find your next job. This book was written and produced entirely by the author. We are proud to be distributing it.
