

BASIC PLUMBING

INTRODUCTION

- Fix simple plumbing problems. If there are more serious issues, then you will need to hire a professional.
- Be aware of any plumbing codes in your county, or municipality, for more than any work you do is to-code.
- Check if you require a permit for major plumbing work. In most houses, always check with local authorities and obtain any necessary permits.
- While doing any plumbing, always start by turning off the water supply.

Notes: The methods described here are for the most common situations in most homes. If your situation is different, talk to a plumber before you start any complete job.

CLEARING CLOGS

USING A PLUNGER

- Always start by checking the pop-up stopper in the tub or sink; make sure that it is open and clear of all debris.
- If the stopper is clear and open, then the drainpipe is probably clogged.
- Try a chemical drain cleaner first, as for the recommended amount of time and fluids it comes with hot water (another home remedy option is boiling water and vinegar).
- If that does not work, then remove the stopper from the clogged drain.
- Clear the drain; in some cases, this may be the cause of the clog.
- You can also try using a plunger to clear the drain.

Using a plunger

- Block any overflow hole or other drains in adjacent sinks. If there is debris, this will help to float out the obstruction. Use a thick layer of petroleum jelly on the rim of the plunger. This helps to create a tighter seal. Push the plunger about several times with force. If this does not clear the clog, then keep plunging. When the drain is clear, turn hot water about for a couple of minutes to loosen any remaining debris.

Cleaning the sink trap

- Block any traps that have a bucket handle by catching any debris that needs to be removed. Look for a clean-out plug at the base. It should be open or disengaged and can then be used to remove a clogged trap. To clean out, then remove it and use a disengaged wire coat hanger to clean out any debris. If there is no clean-out plug, then you will need to remove the trap by disconnecting any couplings that hold it in place. If you have chrome pipe, then you just need to use the help of a pair of pliers. Once the trap is free, then use the bucket end and a straightened wire coat hanger to clear out any debris. Make the trap out with soap and hot water. Replace the trap; be aware that you must have no thread life threads (use a pipe compound or Teflon tape).

USING A SNAKE

- If the trap is clear but the drain is still clogged, you will need to use a "snare snake". Insert the snake into the drain and push until you feel the obstruction.
- Try to hook the snake on the clog by twisting it clockwise.
- Twist and push the snake back and forth until pipe breaks it up.
- Remove the snake and flush the pipe thoroughly with cold water.
- Reassemble the trap; be aware that you may have to reseal the threads totally again.

REMOVING THE DRAIN PLATE

- If more than one sink, bathtub, or toilet is clogged, then you will need to clean out the main drain.
- To do this, find the clean-out plug located on the large drainpipes (generally located in the vertical pipes). If a basement or other space.
- Remove the flange for the clean-out plug; be sure to have a bucket handy when opening up the drain.
- Use a snake to break up any clogs; make sure that you break the snake in both directions of the pipe.
- When you have cleared the pipe, replace the steel cap on the drain pipe.

PREVENTING CLOGS

IN THE KITCHEN

- Do not pour grease down the kitchen sink; place the grease in a can and throw it in the garbage.
- Do not pour coffee grounds down the sink; throw them in the compost or the garbage.
- Regularly run water down the drain to completely flush any food particles down the drain.
- Once a week, you should also pour a kettle of boiling water down the drain to help keep it clear.
- If using chemical cleaners, use these cleaning containing sodium hydroxide or sodium percarbonate; they are more effective, safer, and gentler on pipes.

IN THE BATHROOM

- Clean the pop-up stoppers in sinks and tubs; often, hair can collect there and cause clogs.
- Never push heavy-duty paper products down the toilet.

GENERAL TIPS

- Never dump chemicals like paint or paint thinner down a drain.
- If you use a septic tank, then have it inspected every three to four years; some areas may require more frequent inspections (check with local authorities).
- Use a non-clog drain cleaner every few months to help maintain a clog-free drain.
