Basic Probability Theory Dover S On Mathematics:

Basic Probability Theory Robert B. Ash, 2008-06-26 This introduction to more advanced courses in probability and real analysis emphasizes the probabilistic way of thinking rather than measure theoretic concepts. Geared toward advanced undergraduates and graduate students, its sole prerequisite is calculus. Taking statistics as its major field of application, the text opens with a review of basic concepts, advancing to surveys of random variables, the properties of expectation, conditional probability and expectation, and characteristic functions. Subsequent topics include infinite sequences of random variables, Markov chains, and an introduction to statistics. Complete solutions to some of the problems appear at the end of the book.

Set, Measure and Probability Theory Marcelo S. Alencar, Raphael T. Alencar, 2024-03-12 This book introduces the basic concepts of set theory, measure theory, the axiomatic theory of probability, random variables, and multidimensional random variables. Functions of random variables, convergence theorems, laws of large numbers, and fundamental inequalities. The idea is to present a seamless connection between the more abstract advanced set theory, the fundamental concepts from measure theory and integration to introduce the axiomatic theory of probability, filling in the gaps from previous books and leading to an interesting, robust and hopefully self-contained exposition of the theory. This book also presents an account of the historical evolution of probability theory as a mathematical discipline. Each chapter presents a short biography of the important scientists who helped develop the subject. Appendices include Fourier transforms in one and two dimensions, important formulas and inequalities, and a commented bibliography. Many examples, illustrations, and graphics help the reader understand the theory.

Theory of Groups of Finite Order William S. Burnside, 2013-02-20 Classic 1911 edition covers many group-related properties, including an extensive treatment of permutation groups and groups of linear substitutions, along with graphic representation of groups, congruence groups, and special topics.

Inference and Learning from Data: Volume 1 Ali H. Sayed, 2022-12-22 This extraordinary three-volume work, written in an engaging and rigorous style by a world authority in the field, provides an accessible, comprehensive introduction to the full spectrum of mathematical and statistical techniques underpinning contemporary methods in data-driven learning and inference. This first volume, Foundations, introduces core topics in inference and learning, such as matrix theory, linear algebra, random variables, convex optimization, and stochastic optimization, and prepares students for studying their practical application in later volumes. A consistent structure and pedagogy is employed throughout this volume to reinforce student understanding, with over 600 end-of-chapter problems, including solutions for instructors, 100 figures, 180 solved examples, datasets, and downloadable Matlab code. Supported by sister volumes Inference and Learning and Uncertain Information and Linear Systems, this textbook sequence is ideal for early career researchers and graduate students across many courses in signal processing, machine learning, statistical analysis, data science, and inference.

Uncertain Information and Linear Systems Tofiq Allahviranloo, 2019-09-23 This book identifies the important uncertainties to use in real-world problem modeling. Having information about several types of ambiguities vagueness and uncertainties is vital in modeling problems that involve linguistic variables parameters and word computing Today since most of our real world problems are related to decision making at the right time we need to apply intelligent decision science Clearly in order to have an appropriate and flexible mathematical model every intelligent system requires real data on our environment Presenting problems that can be represented using mathematical models to create a system of linear equations this book discusses the latest insights into uncertain information    The Bulletin of Mathematics Books ,1992

Information Theory Robert B. Ash,1990-01-01 Developed by Claude Shannon and Norbert Wiener in the late Forties information theory or statistical communication theory deals with the theoretical underpinnings of a wide range of communication devices radio television radar computers telegraphy and more This book is an excellent introduction to the mathematics underlying the theory Designed for upper level undergraduates and first year graduate students the book treats three major areas analysis of channel models and proof of coding theorems Chapters 3 7 and 8 study of specific coding systems Chapters 2 4 and 5 and study of statistical properties of information sources Chapter 6 Among the topics covered are noiseless coding the discrete memoryless channel error correcting codes information sources channels with memory and continuous channels The author has tried to keep the prerequisites to a minimum However students should have a knowledge of basic probability theory Some measure and Hilbert space theory is helpful as well for the last two sections of Chapter 8 which treat time continuous channels An appendix summarizes the Hilbert space background and the results from the theory of stochastic processes necessary for these sections The appendix is not self contained but will serve to pinpoint some of the specific equipment needed for the analysis of time continuous channels In addition to historic notes at the end of each chapter indicating the origin of some of the results the author has also included 60 problems with detailed solutions making the book especially valuable for independent study    Encyclopaedia of Mathematics Michiel

Hazewinkel,2013-12-01 This ENCYCLOPAEDIA OF MATHEMATICS aims to be a reference work for all parts of mathematics It is a translation with updates and editorial comments of the Soviet Mathematical Encyclopaedia published by Soviet Encyclopaedia Publishing House in five volumes in 1977 1985 The annotated translation consists of ten volumes including a special index volume There are three kinds of articles in this ENCYCLOPAEDIA First of all there are survey type articles dealing with the various main directions in mathematics where a rather fine subdivision has been used The main requirement for these articles has been that they should give a reasonably complete up to date account of the current state of affairs in these areas and that they should be maximally accessible On the whole these articles should be understandable to mathematics students in their first specialization years to graduates from other mathematical areas and depending on the specific subject to specialists in other domains of science engineers and teachers of mathematics These articles treat their material at a fairly general level and aim to give an idea of the kind of problems techniques and concepts involved in the area in question They also contain background and motivation rather than precise statements of precise theorems with detailed definitions and technical details on how to carry out proofs and constructions The second kind of article of medium length contains more detailed concrete problems results and techniques Aspects of Mathematics Ngaiming Mok,2001
