Quality Matters Robert Schwartz, John Mayne, 2005-01-01 Contributors are from Australia Canada the European Union France the Netherlands New Zealand Sweden Switzerland United Kingdom United States and the World Bank They examine and analyze practices for assuring the quality of evaluation performance auditing and performance reporting in the face of political organizational and technical obstacles A final chapter addresses the extent to which quality assurance systems become bothersome rituals or remain meaningful mechanisms to ensure quality control This well defined volume will be of particular interest to policymakers and adds much to the literature on program evaluation and performance auditing

Evaluating the effects of regional interventions. A look beyond current Structural Funds' practice Karol Olejniczak, Stanisław Bienias, Marek Kozak, 2012 The aim of this book is to enrich current evaluation of the Structural Funds in the field of regional development by connecting it with the advances in contemporary international practices of evaluation We strongly believe that evaluation studies are one of the key feedback mechanisms in modern public policy They help us reflect critically on the value and merit of our programmes learn and improve the utility of new public interventions concepts and tools Evidence from countries in transition Evaluation Management in South Africa and Africa Fanie Cloete, 2014-12-01 This blind peer reviewed book systematically records analyses and assesses for the first time in a single volume the implications of the global development and management of professional evaluation for the African continent The book deals with the most strategic contemporary evaluation themes Each of these themes contains discussions of theoretical issues illustrated with one or more short case studies while selected longer case studies and other relevant documentation are also taken up in annexures at the end of the book The book therefore comprises a guide to best M E practices for purposes of systematic policy programme and project evaluations It is suitable for both professional M E institutionalisation and capacity building projects as well as for evaluation information dissemination and education at different levels in the public private and voluntary sectors in society especially in a developmental context From Studies to Streams Ray C. Rist, Nicoletta Stame, 2011-12-31 Recent developments in policy evaluation have focused on new notions of process and use or notably influence But this debate among evaluators on how evaluations are used has been essentially a closed one evaluators talking only among themselves The debate has gone on seemingly oblivious to fundamental changes in the intellectual landscape of public management organizational theory information technology and knowledge management New realities demand a different approach toward evaluation The current era is characterized by the emergence of an increasingly global set of pressures for governments to perform effectively not just efficiently and to demonstrate that their performance is producing desired results Information technology allows enormous quantities of information to be stored sorted analyzed and made available at little or no cost The result for those in the evaluation community is that while individual evaluations are still conducted and reported upon they are a rapidly diminishing source of information In the new environment ever accelerating political and organizational demands and expectations are reframing thinking about the definition of what fundamentally constitutes evaluation and what we understand as its applications In this twelfth volume in the Comparative Policy Evaluation series authors from fourteen nations address these issues from multiple vantage points From Studies to Streams is an essential tool for policymakers government officials and scholars interested in the contemporary status of evaluation International Bibliography of Political Science Compiled by the British Library of Political and Economic Science, 2000-02 IBSS is the essential tool for librarians university departments research institutions and any public or private institution whose work requires access to up to date and comprehensive knowledge on the social sciences International Atlas of Evaluation Jan-Eric Furubo, Ray C. Rist, Rolf Sandahl, The history development and future directions of evaluation in various European and Asian countries are described and examined Chapter topics include international organizations or associations that influence this global direction Business Horizon Evaluation of public policy has changed considerably in the past decade This is especially true in Europe where evaluation is now an institutional part of public sector governance but it is also characteristic of other parts of the world The International Atlas of Evaluation describes individual country as well as global trends and developments in the application and impact of evaluation. It also explains underlying forces affecting the contour of evaluation in different national contexts and their consequences for the diffusion of evaluation. The International Atlas of Evaluation describes and examines the history, development and future directions of evaluation in twenty-two countries: Australia, Canada, China, Denmark, Finland, France, Germany, Switzerland, Ireland, Israel, Italy, Japan, Korea, the Netherlands, New Zealand, Norway, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, Zimbabwe, the United Kingdom and the United States. It includes chapters on international organizations or associations that heavily influence the global direction of evaluation: the European Union, the World Bank and Development Assistance Evaluation. The volume includes a historical overview of supply and demand in relation to evaluation, shifts in institutional settings, university programs and other sources of training, descriptions of its applications in the executive and legislative branches of government and observations on the status and future of national systems of evaluation. The Atlas explores whether those countries where evaluation took off some years ago are expanding its use or whether its development has stabilized or even decreased. It explores factors supporting the development of evaluation in a number of developing countries. This volume in the Comparative Policy Analysis series is an essential tool for policy makers, government officials and scholars interested in the contemporary status of evaluation. Jan Eric Furuho is head of the Secretariat for Strategic Analyses in the National Audit Office in Sweden. Ray C. Rist is a senior evaluation officer with the Operations Evaluation Department of the World Bank. He has held senior positions in both the legislative and executive branches of the United States government as well as teaching positions at Cornell University, The Johns Hopkins University and George Washington University. Rolf Sandahl is an expert in evaluation at the National Financial Management Authority in Sweden and author of many books and articles in the area of policy instruments, results analysis and management by results.

Evaluating Public Participation in Policy Making

Joanne Caddy, Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development, 2005-08-31. Evaluating Public Participation in Policy Making examines the key issues for consideration when evaluating information consultation and public participation. It looks at theory and practice and draws heavily upon the insights of experts from OECD countries. Rather than a technical manual for professional evaluators, it offers strategic guidance for policy makers and senior government officials responsible for commissioning and using evaluations of public engagement. It offers concrete examples drawn from current practice in Canada, the Czech Republic, Finland, Italy, Mexico, Norway, Sweden and the UK.
