,1986      The UN Human Rights Treaty System in the 21 Century Anne Bayefsky,2021-12-28 Every United Nations member state is part of the human rights treaty system through the ratification of at least one of the six major human rights treaties rendering universal participation a reality For human rights victims the treaty system is of central importance because international legal standards may offer benefits which political fora may not the potential to generate remedies attention accessibility At the same time the implementation mechanisms associated with the human rights treaties were designed at a time when the argument that international interest in human rights was an interference in domestic jurisdiction was at its peak The challenge for the 21st Century is to move the theory of universality of international human rights standards towards effective implementation of human rights obligations This book is a major contribution to the effort to focus attention on effective implementation of the human rights treaties The contributors examine the major implementation shortfalls of the UN human rights treaty system and offer concrete recommendations as to where future implementations efforts should be placed The contributors are in a unique position to formulate and share their insights They are drawn from among all of the constituencies involved in the human rights treaty system the treaty bodies themselves the NGO community the UN secretariat regional human rights regimes UN agencies UN human rights actors from the Human Rights Commission the judiciary and academia The book also includes as a unique resource all of the major documents concerning the UN human rights treaty system the text of the treaties the text of all amendments statistics on individual communications to the treaty bodies the text of all meetings of the chairpersons of the treaty bodies reports and commentaries submitted to the UN
