INTRODUCTION TO THE JOINT TRAUMA SYSTEM JTS

The Joint Trauma System JTS is the Department of Defense DoD authority for the military's trauma care system. The vision of the Joint Trauma System is that every Soldier, Sailor, Marine, and Airman injured on the battlefield will have the optimum chance for survival and maximum potential for functional recovery. To achieve this vision, in 2006 the JTS implemented programs for data-driven trauma system development and improvement, in addition to the collection of trauma data. As part of its data collection efforts, the JTS maintains a registry of trauma patients who received care at medical treatment facilities (MTFs). Since 2007, this registry, known as the DoD Trauma Registry (DoDTR), has documented demographic, injury, treatment, and outcomes data for all trauma patients admitted to any DoD MTF, regardless of whether the injury occurred during ongoing military operations and is the largest military trauma data source in the world. Development of the DoDTR began during the early years of the Global War on Terror (GWOT) when the need to systematically improve trauma care for combat wounded resulted in the impromptu creation of a demonstration registry known then as the Combat Trauma Registry (CTR). The CTR was constructed by the Center for AMEDD Strategic Studies (CASS); trauma-related information was initially abstracted into it from paper medical records received from trauma nurse coordinators (TNCs) at Landstuhl Regional Medical Center (LRMC) in Germany. Shortly after the demonstration program started, the Army Surgeon General approved its transition to an operational mode, leading to the formation of the Joint Theater Trauma System (JTTS) and eventually the Joint Trauma System (JTS).

Technical Manual

American Association of Blood Banks, 2002. Manual includes many changes since the previous edition, including a description of the 10 Quality System Essentials (QSEs) that make up Section A in the newest series of standards published by the American Association of Blood Banks. Includes a new chapter on platelet and granulocyte antigens and antibodies.

Joint Trauma System (JTS) Clinical Practice Guidelines

, Over 700 total pages. The JTS Clinical Practice Guidelines (CPGs) are to the greatest extent possible evidence-based. The guidelines are developed using a rigorous process that involves subject matter experts in each field evaluating the best available data. If you are interested in learning more about the process of developing CPGs, please click this link: CPG Development Process. This guide for CPG development will help lead you through the methods used to develop and monitor CPGs. The JTS remains committed to using the highest levels of analytical and statistical analysis in its CPG development process.
