Narrative Obtrusion in the Hebrew Bible Christopher T. Paris, 2014-07-01 Narrators of the Hebrew Bible generally allow their stories to proceed while relying on characters and dialogue to provide necessary information Paris calls attention to when the story teller breaks frame to provide information or direct reader understanding preventing undesirable construals or interpretations of the story After surveying the phenomenon in the Hebrew Bible and other ancient Near Eastern literature Paris focuses on the Deuteronomistic History Paris argues that attention to narrative obtrusion offers an entry point into the world of the narrator and redefines aspects of narrative criticism The Binding of Isaac Omri

Boehm, 2007-07-20 Traditional interpretations in both Judaism and Christianity argue that the Akedah presents not only an ethical question but also an ethical reply But for the intervention of the angel Abraham would have killed his son Obedience to God take precedence over morality as humanly conceived Yet the angel of YHWH that appears to Abraham is a later addition to the text thus in the original narrative Abraham actually disobeys the divine command to slay his son and sacrifices a ram instead The first part of the book shows how the original version of the narrative did not contain the angelic figure The second part of the book re examines various religious interpretations of the text to show that exegetes such as Maimonides and his followers did point out Abraham's disobedience According to these writers the esoteric layer of the story in fact declares that disobedience to God's command was Abraham's true affirmation of faith In the third part of the book Boehm re opens the philosophical debate between Kant and Kierkegaard Boehm concludes the book by contending that the monotheistic model of faith presented by Abraham was actually a model of disobedience Ethical Issues in the

Abraham Narrative Eryl W. Davies, 2025-09-18 Eryl W Davies enhances understanding of the ethical issues embedded in the stories concerning Abraham in Genesis 12-25 He focuses on the ethics of deception in Gen 12:10-20 and 20:1-18 and the dark side of the character of God as revealed in stories such as the binding of Isaac in Gen 22 while also considering how the writings of philosophers such as Kant Kierkegaard and Habermas illuminate aspects of the biblical stories Davies closely explores the ambivalence of characterisation the subtleties and ambiguities of plot the significance of narrative point of view and how the actions of the characters have been evaluated both within the text itself and by subsequent commentators By examining the morally problematic issue of the connection between deed and consequence the plight of Hagar the nature of sin in the destruction of Sodom and Gomorrah and the perspectives surrounding the incest of Lot and his daughters Davies demonstrates how biblical narratives can function in ethical deliberation The Embroidered Bible: Studies in Biblical
