And Cinematic Ethics Exploring Ethical Experience:

Cinematic Ethics Robert Sinnerbrink, 2015-10-23 How do movies evoke and express ethical ideas What role does our emotional involvement play in this process What makes the aesthetic power of cinema ethically significant Cinematic Ethics Exploring Ethical Experience through Film addresses these questions by examining the idea of cinema as a medium of ethical experience with the power to provoke emotional understanding and philosophical thinking In a clear and engaging style Robert Sinnerbrink examines the key philosophical approaches to ethics in contemporary film theory and philosophy using detailed case studies of cinematic ethics across different genres styles and filmic traditions Written in a lucid and lively style that will engage both specialist and non specialist readers this book is ideal for use in the academic study of philosophy and film Key features include annotated suggestions for further reading at the end of each chapter and a filmography of movies useful for teaching and researching cinematic ethics Emotions, Ethics, and Cinematic Experience Robert

Sinnerbrink, 2021-06-11 Since the early 1990s phenomenology and cognitivism have become two of the most influential approaches to film theory Yet far from being at odds with each other both approaches offer important insights on our subjective experience of cinema Emotions Ethics and Cinematic Experience explores how these two approaches might work together to create a philosophy of film that is both descriptively rich and theoretically productive by addressing the key relationship between cinematic experience emotions and ethics Philosophy and Film Christina Rawls, Diana Neiva, Steven S. Gouveia, 2019-04-25 This volume collects twenty original essays on the philosophy of film It uniquely brings together scholars working across a range of philosophical traditions and academic disciplines to broaden and advance debates on film and philosophy The book includes contributions from a number of prominent philosophers of film including No 1 Carroll Chris Falzon Deborah Knight Paisley Livingston Robert Sinnerbrink Malcolm Turvey and Thomas Wartenberg While the topics explored by the contributors are diverse there are a number of thematic threads that connect them Overall the book seeks to bridge analytic and continental approaches to philosophy of film in fruitful ways Moving to the individual essays the first two sections offer novel takes on the philosophical value and the nature of film The next section focuses on the film as philosophy debate Section IV covers cinematic experience while Section V includes interpretations of individual films that touch on questions of artificial intelligence race and film and cinema s biopolitical potential Finally the last section proposes new avenues for future research on the moving image beyond film This book will appeal to a broad range of scholars working in film studies theory and philosophy Cognitive Film and Media Ethics Wyatt Moss-Wellington, 2021 Cognitive Film and

Media Ethics provides a grounding in the use of cognitive science to address key questions in film television and screen media ethics This book extends past works in cognitive media studies to answer normative and ethically prescriptive questions what could make media morally good or bad and what then are the respective responsibilities of media producers and consumers Moss Wellington makes a primary claim that normative propositions are a kind of rigour in that they force media theorists to draw more active ought conclusions from descriptive is arguments Cognitive Film and Media Ethics presents the rigours of normative reasoning cognitive science and consequentialist ethics as complementary arguing that each seeks progressive elaboration on their own models of causality and causal projections are crucial for any reflection on our moral responsibilities in the world A hermeneutics of ethical cognitivism is applied in the latter half of the book with essays each addressing a different case study in film television news and social media cinema that sets out to inspire moral dissonance in the viewer satirical and humorous depictions of family drama in film and television the politics of the romantic comedy formal aspects of screen media bullying in an era dubbed the television renaissance and contemporary problems in the conflation of news and social media Cognitive Film and Media Ethics synthesises current research in social psychology anthropology memory studies emotion and cognition personality and media selection and evolutionary biology integrating wide ranging concepts from the various disciplines that make up cognitive theory to provide new vantages on the applied ethics of film and screen media

The Routledge Handbook of Philosophy of Empathy Heidi Maibom, 2017-02-03 Empathy plays a central role in the history and contemporary study of ethics interpersonal understanding and the emotions yet until now has been relatively underexplored The Routledge Handbook of Philosophy of Empathy is an outstanding reference source to the key topics problems and debates in this exciting field and is the first collection of its kind Comprising over thirty chapters by a team of international contributors the Handbook is divided into six parts Core issues History of empathy Empathy and understanding Empathy and morals Empathy in art and aesthetics Empathy and individual differences Within these sections central topics and problems are examined including empathy and imagination neuroscience David Hume and Adam Smith understanding evolution altruism moral responsibility art aesthetics and literature gender empathy and related disciplines such as anthropology Essential reading for students and researchers in philosophy particularly ethics and philosophy of mind and psychology the Handbook will also be of interest to those in related fields such as anthropology and social psychology

The Palgrave Handbook of the Philosophy of Film and Motion Pictures Noël Carroll, Laura T. Di Summa, Shawn Loht, 2019-10-30 This handbook brings together essays in the philosophy of film and motion pictures from authorities across the spectrum It boasts contributions from philosophers and film theorists alike with many essays employing pluralist approaches to this interdisciplinary subject Core areas treated include film ontology film structure psychology authorship narrative and viewer emotion Emerging areas of interest including virtual reality video games and nonfictional and autobiographical film also have dedicated chapters Other areas of focus include the film medium s intersection with contemporary social issues film s kinship to other art forms and the influence of historically seminal schools of thought in the philosophy of film Of emphasis in many of the essays is the relationship and overlap of analytic and continental perspectives in this subject

New Philosophies of Film Robert Sinnerbrink, 2022-07-28 What can philosophy teach us about cinema Can cinema transform how we understand philosophy How should we describe the competing approaches to philosophizing on film New Philosophies of Film answers these questions by offering a lucid introduction to the exciting developments and contentious debates within the philosophy of film Mapping out the conceptual terrain it examines both analytic and continental approaches to cinema and puts forward a pluralist film philosophy grounded in practical examples from film documentaries and television series Now thoroughly updated to showcase the most recent developments in the field this 2nd edition features New chapters on phenomenology cinematic ethics philosophical documentary film and television as philosophy incorporating feminist socio political ethical and ecological approaches to cinema Contemporary case studies including Carol Roma Melancholia two Derrida documentaries and the Netflix series Black Mirror Expanded coverage of Gilles Deleuze and Stanley Cavell two of the most influential philosophers of film An updated bibliography filmography and reading lists with links to online resources to support further study Demonstrating how the film philosophy encounter can open up new paths for thinking New Philosophies of Film is an essential resource for putting interdisciplinary inquiry into practice

Mapping Precarity in Contemporary Cinema and Television Francesco Sticchi, 2021-02-11 This book examines a corpus of films and TV series released since the global financial crisis addressing them as emblematic expressions of our age of precarity The analysis of the motifs and characters of these case studies is built around notions originating from Mikhail Bakhtin's literary theory and in particular the concept of chronotope affirming the material and dynamic connection between form and content in artistic experience This book observes how precarious lives are enacted in forms of spatio temporal compositions which carry conceptual and ethical challenges for their viewers This book falls within the film philosophy framework and although primarily directed to an academic audience it provides an interdisciplinary account of the notion of cinematic precarity It puts the embodied analysis of viewers ethical participation in close dialogical relationship with a philosophical and sociological examination of current dynamics of inequality and exclusion

Ethics of Cinematic Experience Orna Raviv, 2019-10-16 Ethics of Cinematic Experience Screens of Alterity deals with the relationship between cinema and ethics from a philosophical perspective finding an intrinsic connection between film spectatorship and the possibility of being open to different modes of alterity The book's main thesis is that openness to otherness is already found in the basic structures of cinematic experience Through a close examination of the ethical relevance of the philosophy of Maurice Merleau Ponty Stanley Cavell Emmanuel Levinas and Gilles Deleuze to cinema studies Ethics of Cinematic Experience Screens of Alterity pursues the question of how film can open the viewer to what is not her and so bring her to encounter otherness in a way that is unique to cinematic experience The book sees ethics as not just the subject content or story of a film but part of its aesthetic structure Accompanied by readings of films mainly from mainstream cinema each chapter focuses on a different aspect of the encounter with alterity through cinema The book gives particular attention to how theoretical discussion of the cinematic close up can lead to ethical insights into the status of both the human and the non human in film and thus lead to an understanding of the relationships the viewer makes with them The book is a helpful resource for students and scholars interested in the relationship between philosophy film and ethics and is appropriate for students of philosophy and media and cultural studies

Terrence Malick Robert Sinnerbrink, 2019-07-11 Many critics have approached Terrence Malick's work from a philosophical perspective arguing that his films express philosophy through cinema. With their remarkable images of nature, poetic voiceovers and meditative reflections, Malick's cinema certainly invites philosophical engagement. In Terrence Malick: Filmmaker and Philosopher, Robert Sinnerbrink takes a different approach, exploring Malick's work as a case of cinematic ethics: films that evoke varieties of ethical experience encompassing existential, metaphysical and religious perspectives. Malick's films are not reducible to a particular moral position or philosophical doctrine; rather, they solicit ethically significant forms of experience encompassing anxiety and doubt, wonder and awe, to questioning and acknowledgment through aesthetic engagement and poetic reflection. Drawing on a range of thinkers and approaches from Heidegger and Cavell, Nietzsche and Kierkegaard to phenomenology and moral psychology, Sinnerbrink explores how Malick's films respond to the problem of nihilism, the loss of conviction or belief in prevailing forms of value and meaning, and the possibility of ethical transformation through cinema, from self-transformation in our relations with others to cultural transformation via our attitudes towards nature and the world. Sinnerbrink shows how Malick's later films, from The Tree of Life to Voyage of Time, provide unique opportunities to explore cinematic ethics in relation to the crisis of belief, the phenomenology of love, and film's potential to invite moral transformation.

Signs of Life Graeme Harper, Andrew Moor, 2005 Signs of Life: Medicine and Cinema is the first single volume to consider the cinematic representation of medicine, medical science and the medical profession, and explores the political implications of the representations of doctors, nurses, patients, diseases and disabilities. The essays in this collection, from a wide range of film scholars and medical practitioners, also consider how formal qualities of cinema, such as empirical observation, mise en scène, propaganda and education, melodrama, documentary and narrative construction, impact on our understanding of medical procedures and the public image of medicine.

Reconfigurations Stefanie Knauss, Alexander D. Ornella, 2007 From Once Upon a Time in the West to Moulin Rouge, from Ghanaian video movies to Japanese Manga, from Christian symbolism in advertising to the mythic significance of female messiah figures, from the relationship of the arts and theology to the role of the audience in the meaning-making process, this book provides a feast for anyone wanting to explore the interconnectivity of religion, media and society.
