Adoption And Loss The Hidden Grief:

Adoption and Loss - The Hidden Grief Evelyn Robinson,2000-09-01 Based on the author s personal experience as a mother who lost a child through adoption and her experience as a social worker who has worked extensively in the area of post adoption counselling with adults this resource graphically describes the disenfranchised grief associated with adoption and suggests ways in which that hidden grief can be acknowledged and confronted Adoption and Loss Evelyn Burns

Robinson,2000 Adoption and loss the hidden grief Destiny's Angel Lynette Caroline Selles,Lyn Selles,2003 Counting Our Losses Darcy L. Harris,2011-01-19 This text is a valuable resource for clinicians who work with clients dealing with non death nonfinite and ambiguous losses in their lives It explores adjustment to change transition and loss from the perspective of the latest thinking in bereavement theory and research The specific and unique aspects of different types of loss are discussed such as infertility aging chronic illnesses and degenerative conditions divorce and separation immigration adoption loss of beliefs and loss of employment Harris and the contributing authors consider these from an experiential perspective rather than a developmental one in order to focus on the key elements of each loss as it may be experienced at any point in the lifespan Concepts related to adaptation and coping with loss such as resilience hardiness meaning making and the assumptive world transcendence and post traumatic growth are considered as part of the integration of loss into everyday life experience Becoming a Mother Mari Gallagher,2018-12-28 Becoming a Mother is the first book published in

Ireland exploring the complexity of adoption from the perspective of an adoptive parent It draws on a combination of seminal and modern texts and personal memoir to present a unique view of what it means to be an adoptive parent in Ireland today The book has a particular focus on intercountry adoptive parenting and also looks at adoption from the viewpoints of the adopted person and birth parent A dearth of literature exploring adoption exists on Irish bookshelves Becoming a Mother seeks to fill that void by exploring issues around the topic of adoption the secrecy and silence that still pervades adoption the primal desire to parent that drives adoptive parenting the tumultuousness of search and reunion and more It includes shared experiences and tips on bonding with the adopted child as well as a look at parenthood for the adopted person Becoming a Mother will be of interest to the estimated 10 per cent of the Irish population connected to adoption in some way including the 5 000 children who were adopted from abroad The book has been included as essential reading on preparatory courses for prospective adoptive parents and also on Barnardos post adoptive service reading list Adopted Women and Biological

Fathers Elizabeth Hughes,2017-03-01 Adopted Women and Biological Fathers offers a critical and deconstructive challenge to the dominant notions of adoptive identity The author explores adoptive women s experiences of meeting their biological fathers and reflects on personal narratives to give an authoritative overview of both the field of adoption and the specific history of adoption reunion This book takes as its focus the narratives of 14 adopted women as well as the partly fictionalised story of the author and examines their experiences of birth father reunion in an attempt to dissect the ways in which we understand adoptive female subjectivity through a psychosocial lens Opening a space for thinking about the role of the discursively neglected biological father this book exposes the enigmatic dimensions of this figure and how telling the relational story of reconciliation might be used to complicate wider categories of subjective completeness belonging and truth This book attempts to subvert the culturally normative unifying system of the mother child bond and prompts the reader to think about what the biological father might represent and how his role in relation to adoptive female subjects may be understood This book will be essential reading for those in critical psychology gender studies narrative work sociology and psychosocial studies as well as appealing to anyone interested in adoption issues and female subjectivity Grief Is a

Journey Kenneth J. Doka, 2017-04-18 Doka explores a new compassionate way to grieve as he explains that grief is not an illness to get over but an individual and ongoing journey He upends the dominant but incorrect view that grief proceeds by stages and helps us realize that our experiences following a death are far more individual and much less predictable than the conventional five stages model would have us believe Doka also explains how to cope with disenfranchised grief not so readily recognized or supported by society such as the death of ex spouses the end of a friendship job loss or infertility
