Besides so much earnest study has been given by those in other countries to the subject of the early discoveries on the American Continent that it is hoped this contribution to its literature will serve to foster still further the spirit of inquiry and be at the same time an acknowledgment of our debt to those countries for what they have furnished us in brain, heart, muscle and life. Sutton farther told us that he had often heard the following traditions among them that of old time their people were divided by a river and one part tarrying behind that they knew not for certainty how they first came to this continent but account for their coming into these parts near Pg 61 where they are now settled that a king of their nation left his kingdom to his two sons that the one son making war upon the other the latter thereupon determined to depart and seek some new habitation that accordingly he set out accompanied by a number of his people and that after wandering to and fro for the space of forty years they at length came to the Delaware River where they settled three hundred and seventy years ago. As I formerly had an opportunity of being acquainted with several French traders and particularly with one who was bred up from his infancy amongst the Western Indians on the west side of Lake Erie he informed me that the first intelligence the French had of them was by some Indians settled at the back of New Spain who in their way home happened to lose themselves and fell down on this settlement of people Pg 114 which they took to be French by their talking very quick so on their return to Canada they informed the Governor that there was a large settlement of French on a river that ran to the sun s setting that they were not Indians although they lived within themselves as Indians for they could not perceive that they traded with any people or had any trade to sea for they had no boats or ships as they could see and though they had guns amongst them yet they were so old and so much out of order that they made no use of them but hunted with their bows and arrows for the support of their families    Narrative and Critical History of America Justin Winsor,1889    Narrative and critical history of America. 1.
