American Of Days:

Community Recognition of Citizenship, a Handbook for "I Am an American Day" Committees United States. Immigration and Naturalization Service, Burritt Clark Harrington, 1944 Since 1939 observance of our national Citizenship Day now known as I Am an American Day has grown in importance and influence. It has become widely recognized throughout the land as a day to honor those whose voluntary allegiance to the United States has given them citizenship through naturalization and those who have most recently come into responsible citizenship by reaching maturity. Authorized and established by Congressional Resolution this observance is annually proclaimed by the President in terms that request all government agencies Federal, State and local to cooperate with the many local civic, educational and patriotic groups in holding exercises to promote an understanding of citizenship rights and duties. The Immigration and Naturalization Service is concerned with the way in which newly naturalized citizens are assimilated into American life. It desires to encourage every community to recognize its naturalized citizens and urges these ceremonies as an appropriate way to demonstrate the community's welcome to its new citizens while also stressing the induction of its young people into fuller responsibilities. The handbook Community Recognition of Citizenship is accordingly made available to community leaders to assist them in planning the ceremonies for I Am an American Day. Such planning it should be recognized is the responsibility and opportunity of each local community and not of this Service or any other Federal agency.
