Reading Across the Pacific Robert Dixon, Nicholas Birns, 2010

Reading Across the Pacific is a study of literary and cultural engagement between the United States and Australia from a contemporary interdisciplinary perspective. The book examines the relations of the two countries, shifting the emphasis from the broad cultural patterns that are often compared to the specific networks, interactions and crossings that have characterised Australian literature in the United States and American literature in Australia. In the 21st century both American and Australian literatures are experiencing new challenges to the very different paradigms of literary history and criticism each inherited from the 20th century. In response to these challenges, scholars of both literatures are seizing the opportunity to reassess and reconfigure the conceptual geography of national literary spaces as they are reformed by vectors that evade or exceed them, including the transnational, the local and the global. The essays in Reading Across the Pacific are divided into five sections: National literatures and transnationalism; Poetry and poetics; Literature and popular culture; The Cold War and Publishing history; and transpacific print cultures.

Peter Carey Graham Huggan, 1996

This concise introductory study showcases Carey's storytelling talents. Carey's success in Australia and elsewhere owes much to his ability to lure his readers into a world at once familiar and fantastic. Carey's fictions are products of the dream factories of twentieth-century corporate capitalism. He debunks the utopian myths of western consumer culture, revealing beneath New Age cant the brutal worship of wealth and power. The world of which they speak is less exotic than grotesque, but it is not for all that irredeemable. Huggan argues that Carey's fictions present both a satire on destructive material values and a defence of the right to change, to invent new pasts and futures.

Peter Carey Karen Lamb, 1992

A concise commentary on the fiction of Peter Carey, author of Bliss, Illywhacker, Oscar and Lucinda and The Tax Inspector. Chapters cover Carey's short story collections as well as his four novels. Detailed notes and bibliographies are included. Includes a first look at Booker Prize winner Peter Carey's unpublished novels and some which he took back from local publishers in the early part of his career and the development of his international reputation. Karen Lamb has also written Uneasy Truces.

The Tomis Complex

Irina Grigorescu Pana, 1996. The Tomis Complex discusses the ways in which the experience and the dilemmas of exile contribute to the shaping of Australian cultural and literary identity. The book, taking its cue from Malouf's rewriting of Ovid's exile at Tomis, looks at representations of marginality in various antipodean texts from early colonial to modern and contemporary among them Rachel Hennings's letters, H. H. Richardson's The Fortunes of Richard Mahony, White's Voss, Malouf's An Imaginary Life, Stow's Tourmaline, Carey's short stories and argues that the edge is not in opposition but in resonance with the centre. Using a clearly defined set of literary and theoretic terms, predominantly from deconstruction and psychoanalysis, Irina Grigorescu Pana argues that exile also correlates with an eros factor, if as the Australian poet Judith Wright writes, love is like a foreign land, the foreign land is no less like love as homeland and the other country become objects of desire to the protagonists of dislocation and colonization. The new land is thus, by extrapolation, a refiguration of the old country that is neither derivative nor definitive but an ongoing spectacular translation a tale of love and exile
