Papers of the American Historical Association, Vol. 3 (Classic Reprint) American Historical Association, 2018-03-24 Excerpt from Papers of the American Historical Association Vol 3 The only publication Of an historic nature during this period from Hutchinson to the new era which on the whole we may find the least fault with is the Annals of Abiel Holmes not indeed that it rises to the highest import of historical writing but for fidelity research and good judgment a model then and a model now for the writing of his tory in a simple chronological sequence I have taken this hasty survey Of the writing of American history during this formative period preceding the coming Of Sparks and his compeers in order to see what effect it all had on the historic spirit as affecting the care of manuscripts Without multiplying instances the fates Of the Hutchinson and Trumbull papers are at once suggested The papers of Jonathan Trumbull of Connecticut were in the main such as accrued on his hands as the executive Of that State and they are some of the most important of such papers elucidating the history of the Revolution for Connecticut stood in close relations to the army on the Hudson on the one hand and was contiguous to the posts held by the British at New York and to Newport the successive post Of the English and the French auxiliaries on the other hand There seems to have been no doubt in the mind Of Trumbull that the papers were his to dispose Of as he thought best and it appears to have been his intention to deposit them in some public library Trumbull died without carrying out this purpose and his heirs in 1794 determined to proceed in accordance with such intention The Massachusetts Historical Society the earliest of all such as sociations among us had just been formed for the express purpose Of collecting preserving and publishing our historical records and to the heirs of the Connecticut governor About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works

The Government of the American Historical Association (Classic Reprint) , 2015-08-04 Excerpt from The Government of the American Historical Association To the Members of the American Historical Association In the April 1914 number of the American Historical Review there appeared as the opening paper of that number under the initials of the Managing Editor an account of the last meeting of the American Historical Association held at Charleston and Columbia South Carolina In treating the question of the government of the Association which was raised at the business meeting the Managing Editor of the Review in the final pages of his account made a lengthy defense of the present management complimented the Council of which he is an influential member and contended vigorously that changes looking to a larger control by the members who attend the meetings and bear the financial burdens year after year were unnecessary The evident purpose of that contention was to convince the members of the Association through its official organ that the position taken at Charleston and later in a series of letters in the Nation by those who are contending that a democratic policy as laid down in the organic law is best for the future growth and usefulness of the Association was without merit The Review is the official publication of the American Historical Association it is the property and should be under the control of the Association When the official organ is made the medium for the discussion of a subject of controversy in the Association by one charged with its management or by any one else it seems that an opportunity should be given for the presentation of the other side of the question In other words when Dr J Franklin Jameson the Managing Editor of the Review undertook to present his views on the government of the Association did he not open the way for an answer to his argument Is not his refusal to publish an answer a suppression of the right of full and free discussion The writer thought so when he read his paper and he holds the same opinion now About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works

Annual Report of the American Historical Association, 1899 (Classic Reprint) American Historical Association, 2015-07-09 Excerpt from Annual Report of the American Historical Association 1899 The New Haven meeting of this national historical society was the most successful in its history During the three days convention December 28 30 the morning and evening sessions were attended by large and enthusiastic audiences An attractive series of interesting historical papers and reports was provided by the programme committee of which Prof E G Bourne of Yale University was the chairman The local committee of arrangements did all that was possible for the entertainment and pleasure of the visiting members of the American Historical and American Economic associations As occasionally in former years so now these two kindred societies met at the same time in the same city The opening meeting of the Economic Association was held Tuesday evening December 27 in the beautiful and spacious hall of the New Haven Colony Historical Society After a cordial welcome from President Dwight on behalf of the society the city and the university and after the inaugural address by Prof Arthur T Hadley the visiting members of both associations were pleasantly received by Professor and Mrs Henry W Farnam at their house on Hillhouse avenue After Professor Fishers inaugural address Wednesday evening at the opening of the Historical convention in Colonial Hall both associations were received by the Historical Society in their lower rooms which are nobly furnished with historical memorials of New Haven Colony and with portraits of its famous men Not even Pilgrim Hall in old Plymouth could afford a richer or more suggestive environment for historical meetings social and literary than does the Colonial Hall in New Haven About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books

Annual Report of the American Historical Association, Vol. 2 American Historical Association, 2015-07-20 Excerpt from Annual Report of the American Historical Association Vol 2 For the Year 1900 Wherever in the course of its work either commission has come upon material falling within the province of the other information to that effect has at once been transmitted and the two bodies have accordingly been able to work in entire harmony and without danger of trespassing upon each other's domain The vote of the association establishing the commission authorized the appointment of representatives of the commission in the different States With the vast mass of material to be dealt with and divided as it is among fortyfive States three Territories and the District of Columbia it early became evident that only by availing itself of the services of such State representatives could the commission hope to accomplish any considerable part of the work devolved upon it and that the time of the members of the commission was likely to be fully engrossed with the general organization and direction of the work without itself undertaking the actual investigation of records The commission accordingly began at once the selection of adjunct members in the different States The labor of selection proved to be very considerable and entailed a large amount of correspondence and personal inquiry The following persons have thus far accepted appointments as adjunct members in their respective States Alabama Mr Thomas M Owen chairman of the Alabama History Commission Birmingham Connecticut Mr Albert C Bates secretary of the Connecticut Historical Society and member of the Commission of Public Records Hartford Illinois Prof F W Shepardson University of Chicago Chicago Indiana Prof James A Woodburn Indiana University Bloomington Iowa Prof Benjamin F Shambaugh University of Iowa Iowa City Kansas Prof Frank H Hodder University of Kansas Lawrence About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works

Papers of the American Historical Association, Vol. 2 (Classic Reprint) American Historical Association, 2015-07-08 Excerpt from Papers of the American Historical Association Vol 2 On the 10th of September 1884 a little company of historical specialists and their friends assembled in Saratoga to organize an American Historical Association Forty members were then enrolled At its third convention the Association numbered over four hundred members including seventy five life members This body of men and women is a select body Every one has been chosen by vote of an executive council and no one has joined by simple application or the mere payment of a membership fee to the treasurer A careful inspection of the list of elected members will show that the character of the American Historical Association is worthy of its name Neither local nor provincial it is a truly national union of the best friends of history in America It is a striking evidence of the national aims of this growing Association that it should so early have advanced upon Washington Two annual meetings were held at Saratoga where in September 1885 among other papers were read descriptions of those local events which there determined our national independence About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works of History in Schools Andrew C. McLaughlin,2016-06-20 Excerpt from The Study of History in Schools Report to the American Historical Association by the Committee of Seven An investigation of the subject of history as it is studied and taught in the secondary schools presents many difficulties Even before the committee began seriously to consider what work was to be done it became apparent that only a thorough study would be profitable that general conclusions or recommendations even on such a question as that of college entrance requirements could not be made without an examination of the whole field and a consideration of many fundamental principles or without ascertaining what was now done in the high schools and academies of the country About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
