American Eagle Easton:

The Eagle Magazine, 1926 Fries's Rebellion Paul Douglas Newman, 2004 Fries's Rebellion was the third in three popular uprisings immediately following the Revolution after Shays's Rebellion and the Whiskey Rebellion that directly challenged the still fledgling federal government. This is the first book on the watershed event in early America. Many Identities, One Nation Liam Riordan, 2010-11-24 The richly diverse population of the mid-Atlantic region distinguished it from the homogeneity of Puritan New England and the stark differences of the plantation South that still dominate our understanding of early America. In Many Identities, One Nation Liam Riordan explores how the American Revolution politicized religious, racial, and ethnic identities among the diverse inhabitants of Pennsylvania, Delaware, and New Jersey. Attending to individual experiences through a close comparative analysis, Riordan explains the transformation from British subjects to U.S. citizens in a region that included Quakers, African Americans, and Pennsylvania Germans. In the face of a gradually emerging sense of nationalism, varied forms of personal and group identities took on heightened public significance in the Revolutionary Delaware Valley. While Quakers in Burlington, New Jersey, remained suspect after the war because of their pacifism, newly freed slaves in New Castle, Delaware, demanded full inclusion, and bilingual Pennsylvania Germans in Easton, Pennsylvania, successfully struggled to create a central place for themselves in the new nation. By placing the public contest over the proper expression of group distinctiveness in the context of local life, Riordan offers a new understanding of how cultural identity structured the early Jacksonian society of the 1820s as a culmination of the American Revolution in this region. This compelling story brings to life the popular culture of the Revolutionary Delaware Valley through analysis of wide-ranging evidence from architecture, folk art, clothing, and music to personal papers, newspapers, and local church tax and census records. The study's multilayered local perspective allows us to see how the Revolutionary upheaval of the colonial status quo penetrated everyday life and stimulated new understandings of the importance of cultural diversity in the Revolutionary nation. The Federal Reporter, 1886 Includes cases argued and determined in the District Courts of the United States and Mar-May 1880, Oct-Nov 1912, the Circuit Courts of the United States Sept-Dec 1891, Sept-Nov 1924, the Circuit Courts of Appeals of the United States Aug-Oct 1911, Jan-Feb 1914, the Commerce Court of the United States Sept-Oct 1919, Sept-Nov 1924, the Court of Appeals of the District of Columbia. A Letter from the Virginia Loyalist John Randolph to Thomas Jefferson Arthur Prentice Rugg, John Randolph, 1921 Backcountry Crucibles Jean R. Soderlund, Catherine S. Parzynski, 2008 American historians have emphasized major cities as cultural and economic centers. This volume explores the vitality of cultural, economic, and political life beyond those cities. The Lehigh Valley is a place where integral events occurred, but is also an example of regional growth outside large cities. Its unique location, close enough to New York and Philadelphia to market grain, iron, coal, and steel, yet distant enough to develop its own cultural life, offers a regional model persisting for more than two centuries heretofore unexplored in American historical scholarship. This persistence of cultural and economic patterns including the capacity to change makes Lehigh Valley history particularly intriguing History of Northampton County [Pennsylvania] and the Grand Valley of the Lehigh William Jacob Heller,1920 Bibliography of American Newspapers, 1690-1820 ,1918 Proceedings of the American Antiquarian Society American Antiquarian Society,1921 Proceedings American Antiquarian Society,1921 ACLCP Union List of Periodicals Associated College Libraries of Central Pennsylvania,1997 Journalism, a Bibliography New York Public Library,1924 Harvard Historical Studies Frederick William Dallinger,1897 Bulletin of the New York Public Library New York Public Library,1923 Includes its Report 1896 19 Pennsylvania Newspaper Project ,1992 Nominations for Elective Office in the United States Frederick William Dallinger,1897 The American Stationer ,1887 Moody's Manual of Industrial and Miscellaneous Securities ,1922 Bullinger's Postal and Shippers Guide for the United States and Canada and Newfoundland ,1918 Aviation ,1929
