Avengers Age Of Ultron Zeus:

Mutants, Androids, and Aliens James A. Tyner, 2025-05-19 In both literature and film mutants androids and aliens have long functioned as humanity's Other nonhuman bodies serving as surrogates to explore humanity's prejudice bigotry and hatred. Scholars working in fields of feminism ethnic studies queer studies and disability studies among others have deconstructed representations of the Othered body and the ways these fictional depictions provide insight into the contested terrains of identity subjectivity and personhood. In science fiction more broadly and the superhero genre in particular the fictional Other often a superhero or a villain is juxtaposed against the normal human and such Others have long been the subject of academic investigation. Author James A. Tyner shifts this scholarly focus to consider the ordinary humans who ally with or oppose Othered superheroes. Law enforcement officers military officials politicians and the countless nameless civilians are all examples of humans who try to make sense of a rapidly changing more than human and other than human universe. The resulting volume Mutants, Androids, and Aliens: On Being Human in the Marvel Cinematic Universe provides a critical posthumanist reading of being human in the Marvel Cinematic Universe (MCU). Centering the MCU's secondary human characters including Matthew Ellis, Ellen Nadeer, Rosalind Price as well as Jimmy Woo, Sadie, Deever, Holden, Radcliffe and others, Tyner considers how these characters attempt to monitor, incarcerate or exterminate those beings considered unnatural and thus threatening. Placing into conversation posthumanism, environmental ethics and myriad philosophical and biological ontologies of life and death, Tyner maintains that the superhero genre reflects the current complexities of meaningful life and of what happens in society when the human is no longer the unquestioned normative standard.

Texts on Texts and Textuality E.F. Kaelin, 2022-07-18 Texts on Texts and Textuality argues the case for an American phenomenology as applied to works of literary artworks. The argument is made by a surrounding frame: the Preface and the Afterword that encloses ten chapters. The chapters are divided into two parts: the phenomenological theory and practical criticism. In making his case, Kaelin traces the development in the American academic tradition from the American New Criticism through structuralism to the French nouvelle critique. He calls his theory phenomenological structuralism and shows its derivation from American pragmatism, contextualism, and an unabashed phenomenology through the criticisms of Roman Ingarden, Martin Heidegger, and Paul Ricoeur. The structuralism derives from the work of Ferdinand de Saussure as incorporated into the philosophical linguistics of Maurice Merleau-Ponty. Part II contains five chapters each concerned with either direct application of the theory in acts of criticism or in the metacriticism of accepted critical theories such as the Aristotelians of early dramatic critics, Chapter 6 or of applied procedures in recent academic critical circles Chapter 10 The argument is concluded in the author's Afterword where pedagogical issues are introduced to suggest the future applicability of the theory A glossary of technical and new terms is added and a double index of names and a subject matter is included to map out the author's own interpretation of his bibliographic references History of Greece, and of the Greek People Victor Duruy,1890 Heck's Pictorial Archive of Art and Architecture Johann Georg Heck,1994 Based on J G Heck's Bilder Atlas zum Conversations Lexicon published in Germany in the nineteenth century the original Iconographic Encyclopaedia of Science Literature and Art was a monumental six volume compilation of illustrations and information covering an enormous range of subjects from archaeology to zoology Among its most remarkable features were the more than 11 000 superb steel engravings comprising one of the most extensive pictorial archives ever published in a single work The present book is devoted to architecture mythology and fine art and includes illustrations of prehistoric tombs pyramids catacombs classical temples and medieval cathedrals as well as museums arches bridges and scores of other structures Also depicted are mythological and religious figures and rites from many cultures Hindu Japanese and Mexican idols Egyptian gods and goddesses Persian processions runic stones Dionysian orgies and others Fine art illustrations include Etruscan bas reliefs Egyptian painting and statuary Greek sculpture paintings by Raphael Caravaggio Andrea del Sarto Titan and other masters along with illustrated examples of the art of drawing and alphabets of various languages **Iconographic Encyclopaedia of Science, Literature & Art** Johann Georg Heck,1860
