Addiction and Change Carlo C. DiClemente, 2017-12-04 Not everyone who experiments with substance use or risky behavior becomes addicted and many who are addicted have been able to recover. This authoritative book now revised and updated has given tens of thousands of professionals and students a state of the art framework for understanding the journey both into and out of addiction. From Carlo C. DiClemente, codeveloper of the transtheoretical model (TTM), the book identifies the stages and processes involved in initiating, modifying, maintaining, or stopping any pattern of behavior. Grounded in extensive research and illustrated with vivid case examples, the book shows how using the TTM can help overcome obstacles to change and make treatment and prevention more effective. New to This Edition: Incorporates 15 years of research advances, contemporary prevention and treatment approaches, and the ongoing development of the TTM. Chapter on current developments in intervention research. Expanded discussions of neuroscience, self-regulation, behavioral economics, self-help, mutual help, and spirituality. Motivational issues, process addictions, gambling, and sex addiction, and more. Deeper coverage of risk and protective factors across adolescent and young adult development.

Ancient Sins . . . Modern Addictions R. Scott Sullender, 2013-07-05 There is a virtual epidemic of addiction in the United States, both traditional addictions to drugs and alcohol but also newer addictions like sex, gambling, rage, work, and food/eating. Some authorities have labeled addictions the number one mental health problem in America. We are spending millions of dollars annually trying to prevent, understand, and treat this epidemic and yet, by any measure of success, we are losing this war. In this cultural context, Dr. Sullender invites us to look again at the spiritually based scheme of the Seven Deadly Sins, which originated at the dawn of Western civilization. He suggests that what our spiritual forebears meant by "deadly" is best captured in the modern concept of addiction. Based on this thesis, this book explores what is addictive about the sins of pride, envy, anger, greed, gluttony, sloth, and lust, and suggests that these sins are all obsessive and, as such, become the mental component in the addictive cycle. Each chapter concludes by offering some spiritual resources, practices, and insights that can help us win the battle against addiction, which is ultimately won or lost on a mental or spiritual plane.
