Nature and Other Poems (Classic Reprint) Alfred Williams, 2015-07-09 Excerpt from Nature and Other Poems Look not herein any who would delight In tricks of fancy and unnatural thought Strained types and similes rags and tatters brought From distant nowhere to confound the sight Those crooked shapes descending from the height Of unsubstantial space or deeply sought In caverns with much fearful labour wrought Not in such torments would I choose to write But were I master I would pay good heed First to be straight and simple not too bold Too over florid fond of tinsel gold But strong in substance native to the deed Where the most stubborn wit could plainly read Like those clear voiced immortal bards of old About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works

My Garden, and Other Poems (Classic Reprint) John Gregory, 2018-01-17 Excerpt from My Garden and Other Poems Such a preface as this makes one regret that he wrote the proem for Murmurs and Melodies in verse This work was published in 1884 and is the last volume that he has produced But the three books named in no way represent the whole of his output for he has issued many poems singly and a collection of these together with his contributions to daily and weekly journals would fill a good sized volume And all this in spite of forty years in factory and workshop But the spirit of song is not allowed to interfere with the social and political work of the citizen While John Gregory toils and sings he also strives by work on committees trades councils and on the platform to ameliorate the lot of his fellow toilers Indeed few men during the last forty years have laboured more conscientiously and honestly on behalf of suffering humanity About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition

Toward Sunset, and Other Poems (Classic Reprint) Francis Henry Stauffer, 2015-07-07 Excerpt from Toward Sunset and Other Poems Towards Sunset and Other Poems Toward Sunset The traveler trudges o er the road His bundle seems like quite a load The thoughts of home his footsteps goad No need for him the way to ask He holds his staff with tighter grasp For fresh installments of his task No longer heats of noon descend

Onward his footsteps slowly tend He knows his journey soon will end
 The sun is sinking in the west
 Each hill top wears a golden crest
 And valleys in deep shadows rest
 The crows are cawing in the woods
 The waning day the coppice floods
 The gath ring twilight deeper broods

GOLD-THREAD & OTHER POEMS (CLA Helen M. Cooke, 2016-09-04 Excerpt from Gold Thread and Other Poems
 These poems are published by the urgent request of friends many of whose faces I have never seen whose hands have never been clasped in mine but whose sweet sympathies have sprung into life and linked our hearts even as the beautiful gold thread which creeps through the Silent darkness of the ground and links its marvelous nerve like tendrils together in thousands of inseparable ties sending up now and then a pure white blossom that makes the world more fragrant and lovely we know not how I have called my book gold thread for it seems to me its contents have sprung out of the hidden intensities of my woman's heart that in it and with it lie the deepest sorrows and sweetest joys I have ever known

Axel, and Other Poems (Classic Reprint) Henry Lockwood, 2015-07-10 Excerpt from Axel and Other Poems In offering the following specimens of Swedish Poetry to the Public the Translator has been careful to select those poems which with the exception of the two ballads from the Frithiof Saga have not as far as he is aware been hitherto rendered into English It has been the Translator's aim to follow the originals as closely as possible both as regards rhythm and imagery and it would be a satisfaction to him to think that the experiment he has ventured to make may be the means of inducing the English student of languages to turn his attention to a class of poetry which has hitherto scarcely received the attention it deserves About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
