Montgomery 1874 1942 was a Canadian author best known for Anne of Green Gables 1908 and its sequels Her work was for the most part based on her own life and surroundings Somewhat sentimental but charming nonetheless her tales of Anne a high spirited orphan girl taken in by an older brother and sister who think they are getting a boy who can help on their farm have delighted readers for generations and inspired several movie and television adaptations Montgomery's mother died before she was two and she was sent to live with her maternal grandparents on their farm on Prince Edward Island with her paternal grandparents also living nearby Maud spent an idyllic childhood in the fields and woods surrounding the farming communities of the island Educated at the island's Cavendish School she stayed with her father and his second wife in Prince Albert Saskatchewan while attending high school and eventually earned a teacher's license from Prince of Wales College in 1893 She gave up teaching and moved back to her grandparents' farm after the death of her grandfather taking a position as a proofreader with an area newspaper briefly while pursuing a career as a writer A few poems and short stories were published before she finished Anne of Green Gables in 1904 but it would be four years and numerous rejections later in 1908 before her first novel found a publisher An immediate success the book launched her long and successful writing career She married in 1911 and following a honeymoon in England and Scotland the couple settled in Leaskdale north of Uxbridge Ontario where her husband served as parish minister They had three sons one of whom died in infancy and while raising her children Montgomery continued to write further Anne works poetry fiction and non fiction In 1923 Montgomery became the first Canadian woman to join the Royal Society of Arts in Britain In 1935 she became a member of the Literary and Artistic Institute of France and was awarded the Order of the British Empire As the popularity of her good and jolly stories with happy endings declined by the late 1930s so too did the health of both Montgomery and her husband He retired from the ministry and they moved to Swasea west of Toronto where both apparently suffered from severe depression along with physical decline In 1938 she suffered a nervous breakdown while he underwent electroshock treatments for mental health
