

James Eyes

Part One

1. How much James Eyes's sadness trouble the Reed's house?

James's agony usually begins when she was ten years old. She was sitting with her aunt, Mrs. Reed, because her parents were dead. Mrs. Reed was very rich and her house was very large and beautiful but James wasn't happy there. Her chores included, Ellis, John and Cheungsima, were older than her. They beat her and never wanted to play with her. Sometimes they were very cruel and she was afraid of it but specially John Reed who liked to frightened her and made her very unhappy. She often told them in a small voice so her mother liked to look at pictures in big books from the library there.

2. In what way can the members of the Reed family be defined as "badness"?

Mrs. Reed liked her children to be well. She cruelty. One day, when John found James hidden from him in the small room looking at pictures in big books in the library there, he was angry with her and decided to teach her not to take their property, so he picked up a large, heavy book and threw it at James. She tried to get out of the way, but she was too late, so the book hit her on the head and when fell. James had her head when she was followed him, so James shouted at John which made him angry. He ran towards her and hit her again and again. James was very frightened, so she hit him back and John started to call his mother, Mrs. Reed, who shouted at James, didn't listen to her and didn't care about the blood running down her face, but she ordered two servants to take James and took her to the red room where her husband died and everyone was afraid to enter this room specially at night as it was a very dark and cold room where James was very afraid and called for help, but no one answered her, so she fainted.

3. James Eyes wouldn't seize the opportunity of telling the doctor the truth about her life. Discuss and show the result of telling that truth.

James fainted in the red room because of being very scared. When she woke up, she found herself in her own bed and the doctor was beside her. When the doctor asked the servants about why James was ill, the servant told him that she fell. But James found that it was a great chance for her to tell the doctor the truth about her life to Mrs. Reed's house. So she told him that she wasn't ill.
