We Are What We Eat Alice Waters, 2022-06-07 From chef and food activist Alice Waters an impassioned plea for a radical reconsideration of the way each and every one of us cooks and eats In We Are What We Eat Alice Waters urges us to take up the mantle of slow food culture the philosophy at the core of her life's work When Waters first opened Chez Panisse in 1971 she did so with the intention of feeding people good food during a time of political turmoil Customers responded to the locally sourced organic ingredients to the dishes made by hand and to the welcoming hospitality that infused the small space human qualities that were disappearing from a country increasingly seduced by takeout frozen dinners and prepackaged ingredients

Waters came to see that the phenomenon of fast food culture which prioritized cheapness availability and speed was not only ruining our health but also dehumanizing the ways we live and relate to one another Over years of working with regional farmers Waters and her partners learned how geography and seasonal fluctuations affect the ingredients on the menu as well as about the dangers of pesticides the plight of fieldworkers and the social economic and environmental threats posed by industrial farming and food distribution So many of the serious problems we face in the world today from illness to social unrest to economic disparity and environmental degradation are all at their core connected to food Fortunately there is an antidote Waters argues that by eating in a slow food way each of us like the community around her restaurant can be empowered to prioritize and nurture a different kind of culture one that champions values such as biodiversity seasonality stewardship and pleasure in work This is a declaration of action against fast food values and a working theory about what we can do to change the course As Waters makes clear every decision we make about what we put in our mouths affects not only our bodies but also the world at large our families our communities and our environment We have the power to choose what we eat and we have the potential for individual and global transformation simply by shifting our relationship to food All it takes is a taste

Chez Panisse Cooking Paul Bertolli, Alice Waters, 1988-10-01

Extraordinary poetic and inspired are only a few words that have been used to describe the food at Chez Panisse. Since the first meal served there in 1971, Alice Waters's Berkeley, California restaurant has revolutionized American cooking, earning its place among the truly great restaurants of the world. Renowned for the brilliant innovations of its ever-changing menu, Chez Panisse has also come to represent a culinary philosophy inspired by nature, dedicated to the common interest of environment and consumer in the use of gloriously fresh organic ingredients.

In Chez Panisse Cooking, chef Paul Bertolli, one of the most talented chefs ever to work with Alice Waters, presents the Chez Panisse kitchen's explorations and reexaminations of earlier triumphs. Expanding upon and sometimes simplifying the concepts that have made Chez Panisse legendary, Bertolli provides reflections, recipes and menus that lead the cook to a critical and intuitive understanding of food itself, of its purest organic sources and most sublime uses. Perhaps best described by Richard Olney, Paul Bertolli's cuisine is what health food should be and never is: a celebration of purity. The food is imaginative but never complicated; it is art. Enhanced by Gail Skoff's breathtaking hand-colored photographs, Paul Bertolli's recipes remind us of the simple and passionate joys in cooking and of the inspiration to be drawn from each season's freshest foods: glistening local salmon creates a wildly colorful springtime carpaccio or is grilled later in the season with tomatoes and basil; vinaigrette; autumn's fresh white truffles are sliced into an extraordinarily textured salad of pastel hues with fennel mushrooms and Parmesan cheese; figs left on the tree until they grow heavy and sweet appear in a fall fruit salad with warm goat cheese and herb toast. Season by season, Chez Panisse Cooking will captivate the senses and imagination of the cook with such entrancing recipes as Sugar Snap Peas with Brown Butter and Sage, Buckwheat Cakes with Smoked Salmon, Crème Fraîche and Capers, Grilled Fish Wrapped in Fig Leaves with Red Wine Sauce, Lamb Salad with Garden Lettuces, Straw Potatoes and Garlic Sauce, Marinated Veal Chops Grilled over an Oak Fire or Seckel Pears Poached in Red Wine with Burnt Caramel. Here some of the restaurant's most remarkable recent menus for special occasions are recreated, from a White Truffle Dinner to the Chez Panisse Tenth Annual Garlic Festival to a supper for poet Vikram Seth that began with "The Season's Song," a summer ballad: Tomatoes, basil, flowers, beans. In unison dance. Lobster Salad. Many of these recipes reflect Paul Bertolli's love of northern Italian food; for other dishes, the inspiration is French. In all, there is a keen awareness of the abundance of uncompromisingly pure seasonal ingredients to be found in America. Above all, the Chez Panisse recipes are meant to inspire the cook to create his or her own version, to awaken the senses to the nuances of taste, texture and color in cooking, to discover the ecstatic moments when the intuition, skill and accumulated experience of the cook merge with the taste and composition of the food. Since its original publication in 1988, this classic cookbook has proved to be indispensable to the shelf of every serious cook and every serious cookbook reader.
