

Types of Blood Circulation

Systemic circulation

Blood circulates between the heart and the rest of the body to transport it to bring nutrients and carry waste materials from the tissues and organs of the body.

Pulmonary circuit

Blood flow between the heart and the lungs. Blood flows from the heart to the lungs before returning back to the heart.

Hepatic portal circulation

A network of veins that allows blood from the digestive organs (ie. stomach, pancreas, liver and small intestine) and transports it to the liver to remove toxins from the blood and absorb nutrients. Once the liver processes the blood, it then flows to the liver capillaries before flowing up to the heart.

Cardiac cycle: overall duration of both the contraction and relaxation of the heart.

Cardiac output (CO): measured in L/min. Calculated by multiplying the heart rate by the stroke volume.

Right ventricle: pumps deoxygenated blood to the lungs via the pulmonary arteries.
