Breaking the Chains of Capitalism Marco D'Anna,2015-11-18 This book offers for consideration an integrated social economic structure and technical solution capable of ending the predatory evolution of our species This book also explains the primary factor responsible for the most preventable suffering and death throughout the evolutionary development of our species and how to correct this dysfunction at its source It also describes how our species is undergoing a natural evolutionary transition from creatures still under the control of our predatory instincts into enlightened beings capable of creating technically advanced societies free of social economic competition for survival This book explains how subjective realities are induced as a powerful form of psychological manipulation and used to control the working class populations for thousands of years It also describes how the effects of artificial selection have altered the intellectual evolutionary development of our species to make our systematic exploitation under capitalism seem like an acceptable social economic system The integrated solution in this book describes the creation of an automated community infrastructure capable of supporting a self replicating technically advanced predator free society The solution also offers exponential growth of a global network allowing more families to end their predatory competition for survival and start helping others wanting to make the transition

Marx and Europe Matthieu de Nanteuil,Anders Fjeld,2024-04-10 This book provides a unique scientific contribution to the debate on Marx s legacy in proposing to critically articulate two lines of discussion which are most often kept apart On the one hand it reassesses the place of Marxian thought in the construction of Europe seeking to revitalise the European political debate On the other it situates Marx thought in the perspective of postcolonial and decolonial studies with particular attention to their effort to overcome the indisputable limits of the Marxian legacy In asking whether Marx thought was too European or not European enough the book examines internationalist emancipatory politics and eurocentrism class struggle and finance in the shaping of the European institutions migration identity and violence as well as Marxian critiques of colonialism both within and beyond Europe At a time of extreme tension also within leftist politics this book provides a precise and rigorous argument on what continues to make Marx s thought relevant in grappling with social domination in the era of global capitalism while also exploring the limits of Marxism today both at the European level and worldwide
