Advanced Christianity:

Advanced Christianity Vic Zarley, 2012-11-05 One of the hardest things we'll ever attempt to do is love people who ignore us or who even actively despise us. Do you see why Jesus commands to love our enemies, pray for those who persecute us, and do good to those who would do evil to us? It remains so low in priority on our lives. To do it is painful just to think that we must love people who consider us so rotten. No sane person would put themselves through an emotional meat grinder by embracing such a goal. No sane person would strive to do as Jesus commands. No sane person would leap the wall that protects our flimsy self from destruction and show such vulnerability and meekness to the conniving and deceitful world ruled by Satan. And so we must choose the apparent insanity of God and choose to be vulnerable and truly loving even though this will most certainly bring us pain. This quote came from Advanced Christianity. This ebook you are considering is filled with teaching as above that takes you beyond the Sunday School class, beyond the sermon preached, and into the areas of the heart and mind that need to grasp how important Jesus' teaching was given while He lived on earth. We can't even love Jesus without considering His teachings because He said, "If you love me, follow my commands." Don't worry if some of the teachings in this book seem impossible. With God, all things are possible. He, through His Holy Spirit, will give you the power to accomplish His commands. Prayer opens the communication with God, allowing Him to instruct and empower you to do as He asks. As you pray, He tells you how. This book tells you why you'd want to do such a thing. I pray it is a blessing to you.

Exposing Myths About Christianity Jeffrey Burton Russell, 2012-05-15 Renowned historian Jeffrey Burton Russell, famous for his studies of medieval history, sets the record straight against the New Atheists and other cultural critics who charge Christianity with being outdated, destructive, superstitious, unenlightened, racist, colonialist, based on fabrication, and other significant false accusations. *Christianity as Taught by S. Josiah Irons, 1870 Learning from the Least Andrew F. Bush, 2013-12-03 With the majority of the world's Christians now living in the non-Western world, Christian mission has become a global movement. The mission of Western Christianity now faces the challenge of laying aside the preeminence and privilege it has long enjoyed in global Christian mission and embracing a new role of servanthood in weakness alongside its sisters and brothers from Asia, South America, and Africa. Such a transformation in historic patterns in mission requires not just new strategies and techniques but a renewal of its spirituality How can the spirituality of Western mission be renewed By learning from those non Western Christians whose lives on the margins reveal anew the One who emptied himself of the prerogatives of glory on the cross to serve humanity out of utter weakness Learning from the Least invites you to a journey among Palestinian Christians to meet radical peacemakers who are making courageous decisions to reconcile with those who are customarily reckoned as enemies Their radical servanthood out of weakness is a prophetic challenge to Western Christians a call to lay aside the prerogatives of power and wealth to question triumphal theologies and to discover again the vulnerability of the way of the cross

Origen and Scripture Peter W. Martens, 2012-01-05 This book examines Origen of Alexandria's approach to the Bible through a biographical lens focusing on his account of the scriptural interpreter Martens explores the many ways in which Origen thought ideal scriptural interpreters himself included embarked upon a way of salvation culminating in the everlasting contemplation of God
