Empowering Underrepresented Gifted Students Joy Lawson Davis, Deb Douglas, 2021-09-23 Help underserved high potential students claim their right to an education that addresses their unique needs In gifted education an important and contentious issue that has yet to be sufficiently addressed is the systemic underrepresentation of gifted students who have been discriminated against in school

based gifted and advanced learner programs because of their race ethnicity gender identity sexual orientation socioeconomic status or other realities Empowering Underrepresented Gifted Students gives a voice to those students and brings their stories into focus With chapters written by student and expert scholars who specialize in addressing the structural inequity and educational inequality in gifted and advanced learner programs Empowering Underrepresented Gifted Students recommends practices and strategies for helping underserved high potential students claim their right to an education that addresses their unique needs Each chapter has key takeaways and discussion questions providing a built in book study guide to prepare educators to engage students in conversation and to help develop their self advocacy skills Coeditors Dr Joy Lawson Davis and Deb Douglas have brought together the voices of experts and students to help educators move closer to ensuring equity access and excellence in gifted education By arming historically marginalized gifted students with self advocacy strategies these remarkable students will be better enabled to fulfill their dreams

Excellence Gaps in Education Jonathan A. Plucker, Scott J. Peters, 2020-01-15 2017 Texas Association for Gifted and Talented Legacy Scholar Book Award 2017 National Association of Gifted Children Scholar Book of the Year Award In Excellence Gaps in Education Jonathan A Plucker and Scott J Peters shine a spotlight on excellence gaps the achievement gaps among subgroups of students performing at the highest levels of achievement Much of the focus of recent education reform has been on closing gaps in achievement between students from different racial ethnic or socioeconomic backgrounds by bringing all students up to minimum levels of proficiency Yet issues related to excellence gaps have been largely absent from discussions about how to improve our schools and communities Plucker and Peters argue that these significant gaps reflect the existence of a persistent talent underclass in the United States among African American Hispanic Native American and poor students resulting in an incalculable loss of potential among our fastest growing populations Drawing on the latest research and a wide range of national and international data the authors outline the scope of the problem and make the case that excellence gaps should be targeted for elimination They identify promising interventions for talent development already underway in schools and provide a detailed review of potential strategies including universal screening flexible grouping targeted programs and psychosocial interventions Excellence Gaps in Education has the potential for changing our national conversation about equity and excellence and bringing fresh attention to the needs of high potential students from underrepresented backgrounds
