American Oratory of To-Day (Classic Reprint) Edwin Du Bois Shurter, 2015-07-12 Excerpt from American Oratory of to Day This work differs from most collations of oratorical selections in two particulars first it is truly American representative of all parts of the country secondly the addresses are by present day speakers on live subjects Hence there will be found herein many names not heretofore included in books of this nature and the speeches furnish an instructive and suggestive exposition of contemporary thought on various subjects The book is intended for the citizen who is interested in the public discussion of questions of the day and for teachers and students in our schools and colleges who are looking for new up to date declamations A fuller representation of American public speakers will be given in subsequent volumes and to this end the editor would be glad to receive suggestions as to speakers not included in the present volume About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works

American Oratory A. Member of the Philadelphia Bar, 2018-01-14 Excerpt from American Oratory Or Selections From the Speeches of Eminent Americans No apology can be required for presenting to the American public a volume of Speeches selected from the best efforts of their own statesmen Public discussion is elsewhere the province of a few in our country it is the duty of almost all It is not only desirable there fore but absolutely necessary that all should have at hand those models which the peculiar character of our institutions the tone of our national thought and the exigencies of our history have combined to produce Foreign orators may serve as examples of style but the inhabitants of a republic must seek at home for the intellectual results of the government they have chosen and for the illustration of those principles by which it is to be sustained If they cannot always find the same refinement of language or the same elaborateness of thought which in older countries is the result of hereditary wealth and more scholastic education they will discover at least a vigorous and masculine diction patriotic sentiments and unflinching independence the appropriate attendants upon themes for the most part grave and frequently severe About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
