It is intended for students who are either in the early stages of their university studies or are preparing to enter a university degree. One of the ways this textbook differs from other textbooks on academic writing is its focus on the organisation of the English sentence through Theme and Rheme. The Theme is what the sentence is about while the Rheme is what is being said about the Theme. In the English clause the Theme is at the beginning and the Rheme follows. At the same time as the English clause is divided into Theme and Rheme the clause can be understood as a unit of information where New information is provided to Given information. One of the central aims of the textbook is to increase awareness of the flow of Given and New information from sentence to sentence and for students to have greater ability in its organisation. Moreover New information is formally organised through prosody or rhythm and intonation patterns. This approach takes account of English rhythms intonation and stress patterns that accompany sentences and how this relates to writing sentences. Through the Theme Rheme and Given New approach combined with an understanding of Genre this book aims to both increase awareness of these aspects of the English sentence and explore how this aspect of English facilitates clearer and more effective writing    The School Journal ,1903    New York School Journal ,1897    The Chautauquan ,1911    The Athenaeum ,1896    The Journal of Hellenic Studies ,1953    Athenaeum ,1879    The Reporter Who Knew Too Much Mark Shaw,2016-12-06    Literary World ,1900    Karl Marx, Frederick Engels Karl Marx,1975 Part of a definitive English language edition prepared in collaboration with the Institute of Marxism Leninism in Moscow which contains all the works of Marx and Engels whether published in their lifetimes or since The series includes their complete correspondence and newly discovered works    Literature, Music, Fine Arts ,1987    New Zealand Journal of Educational Studies ,1996 Bulletin ,1973    Making Connections Through Reading and Writing Maria Valeri-Gold,Mary P.
