CDX-520
CD-1050

IMPORTANT NOTICE

This manual has been prepared for the use of authorized Yamaha Repairs and their service personnel. It has been assumed that basic service procedures inherent to the industry, and more specifically Yamaha Products, are already known and understood by the user, and have therefore not been repeated.

WARNING: Failure to follow recommended service and safety procedures when servicing this product may result in personal injury, destruction of expensive components, and damage to the product not performed as specified. For these reasons, we advise all Yamaha product owners that all service required should be performed by an authorized Yamaha Dealer or an authorized service representative.

IMPORTANT: The procedures or parts of this manual are not intended for those users not qualified, authorized, or recognized as qualified, or applicable technical capabilities, or installation a permanent permanent installation of any kind.

The data provided is believed to be accurate and applicable to the model(s) indicated on the cover. The research, engineering, and service departments of Yamaha are continually striving to improve Yamaha products. Modifications, alterations, changes and specifications are subject to change without notice or obligation to notify. Should any discrepancy appear to exist, please contact the distributor's Service Department.

WARNING: Power absorbers can destroy expensive components. Discharge any static electricity from body, any tools, or equipment by grounding yourself to the ground lead on the unit (factory surge block wire connected to the case).

IMPORTANT: Turn the unit OFF during disassembly and parts replacement. Shutoff all work before connecting power to the unit.
