indigenous Pasifika and other diverse voices which expand established understandings of autoethnography as a critical creative methodology. The book centres around the traditional practice of wayfinding as a Pacific indigenous way of being and knowing and this volume manifests traditional knowledges, genealogies and intercultural activist voices through critical autoethnography. The chapters in the collection reflect critical autoethnographic journeys that explore key issues such as space, place, belonging, decolonizing the academy, institutional racism, neoliberalism, gender, inequity, activism and education reform. This book will be a valuable teaching and research resource for researchers and students in a wide range of disciplines and contexts. For those interested in expanding their cultural, personal and scholarly knowledge of the global south, this volume foregrounds the vast array of traditional knowledges and the ways in which they are changing academic spaces and knowledge creation through braiding old and new. This volume is unique and timely in its ability to highlight the ways in which indigenous and allied voices from the diverse global south demonstrate the ways in which the onto-epistemologies of diverse cultures and the work of critical autoethnography function as parallel and mutually informing projects.

Participatory Visual and Digital Methods Aline Gubrium, Krista Harper, 2016-06-16. Gubrium and Harper describe how visual and digital methodologies can contribute to a participatory public engaged ethnography. These methods can change the traditional relationship between academic researchers and the community building one that is more accessible, inclusive and visually appealing and one that encourages community members to reflect and engage in issues in their own communities. The authors describe how to use photovoice, film and video, digital storytelling, GIS, digital archives and exhibits in participatory contexts and include numerous case studies demonstrating their utility around the world.

Phenomenology of Practice Max Van Manen, 2016-09-16. Max van Manen offers an extensive exploration of phenomenological traditions and methods for the human sciences. It is his first comprehensive statement of phenomenological thought and research in over a decade. Phenomenology of practice refers to the meaning and practice of phenomenology in professional contexts such as psychology, education and health care as well as to the practice of phenomenological methods in contexts of everyday living. Van Manen presents a detailed description of key phenomenological ideas as they have evolved over the past century. He then thoughtfully works through the methodological issues of phenomenological reflection, empirical methods and writing that a phenomenology of practice offers to the researcher. Van Manen's comprehensive work will be of great interest to all concerned with the interrelationship between being and acting in human sciences research and in everyday life. Max van Manen is the editor of the series Phenomenology of Practice <https://www.routledge.com/series/PPVM>

Fiction as Research Practice Patricia Leavy, 2016-06-16. The turn to fiction as a social research practice is a natural extension of what many researchers and writers have long been doing. Patricia Leavy, a widely published qualitative researcher and a novelist, explores the overlaps and intersections between these two ways of understanding and describing human experience. She demonstrates the validity of literary experimentation to the qualitative researcher and how to incorporate these practices into research projects Five short stories and excerpts from novellas and novels show these methods in action This book is an essential methodological introduction for those interested in studying or practicing arts based research Applied Ethnography Pertti J Pelto,2016-06-16 This comprehensive engaging guide to applied research distills the expertise of the distinguished ethnographer and methodologist Pertti Pelto over his acclaimed 50 year career Having written the first major text promoting mixed qualitative and quantitative methods in applied ethnography in the 1970s Pelto now synthesizes decades of innovation including examples from around the world that illustrate how specific methods yield immediate results for addressing social problems Ideal for researchers students training programs and technical assistance projects this thorough text covers the key topics and skills required gaining entry recording and organizing field data a host of specialized techniques integrating qualitative and quantitative methods building and training research teams rapid assessment and focused ethnographic studies short and long term ethnography writing up results non Western perspectives on research and more Engaging in Narrative Inquiries with Children and Youth Jean Clandinin,Vera Caine,Sean Lessard,Janice Huber,2016-03-24 Renowned scholar and founder of the practice of narrative inquiry D Jean Clandinin and her coauthors provide researchers with the theoretical underpinnings and processes for conducting narrative inquiry with children and youth Exploring the unique ability of narratives to elucidate the worldview of research subjects the authors highlight the unique steps and issues of working with these special populations The authors address key ethical issues of anonymity and confidentiality the relational issues of co composing field and research texts with subjects and working within the familial contexts of children and youth include numerous examples from the authors studies and others many from indigenous communities to show narrative inquiry in action should be invaluable to researchers in education family relations child development and children s health and services Transformative Autoethnography for Practitioners Kathy-Ann C. Hernandez,Heewon Chang,Wendy A. Bilgen,2022-03-30 A 2023 SPE Outstanding Book Award Winner Can transformation be the primary goal of autoethnographic research In this book the authors present a compelling case that this is indeed possible Since autoethnography first appeared as a nascent approach to social inquiry much has been written about it as a useful addition to the field of qualitative research methods Over the years its usage has been extended across various disciplines including the humanities human services social sciences leadership studies engineering education counseling and even medical education Notably the primary function of autoethnography to advance our understanding around sociocultural phenomena has been increasingly paired with a parallel function of the many ways in which this research method can also contribute to practice However though its contribution to scholarship is well documented less has been written about its practical usage as the focal point of inquiry Yet there is growing evidence that one of the emerging strengths of autoethnography is its transformative capabilities In Transformative Autoethnography for Practitioners Hernandez Chang and Bilgen turn the spotlight on autoethnography as a tool for practitioners where the primary goal is to solve real world problems by facilitating transformational change at the individual group and or organizational levels They draw on existing scholarship as well as their collective work and expertise to provide a Transformative Autoethnographic Model TAM for use by practitioners who are intent on effecting such changes in their respective contexts The book contains seven chapters Chapters One through Three provide the theoretical grounding for a transformative autoethnography model Chapter One begins with a broad overview of autoethnographic research and the unique characteristics of this method that makes it especially suited for effecting transformational learning In chapters Two and Three the authors provide a quick review of the literature relevant to individual autoethnography and collaborative autoethnography respectively Each chapter discussion is centered around explicating the transformative elements of the method as well as how it is able to effect change at the individual group and organizational level Chapters Four through Six focus on the praxis of transformative autoethnography In Chapter Four the transformative autoethnography model TAM is presented in detail and templates are provided for its application Chapters Five and Six show the application of the TAM in a variety of settings The book ends with a final chapter discussion on the continuing evolution of autoethnographic explorations as well as future applications for the TAM model in a fast changing digital landscape Perfect for courses such as Research Methods in the Social Sciences Qualitative Research Methods Narrative Research Advanced Qualitative Research Methods Coaching and Consulting Leading Change QUALITATIVE INQUIRY UNDER FIRE Norman K Denzin,2009-07-15 This collection of recent works by Norman K Denzin provides a history of the field of qualitative inquiry over the past two decades As perhaps the leading proponent of this style of research Denzin has led the way toward more performative writing toward conceptualizing research in terms of social justice toward inclusion of indigenous voices and toward new models of interpretation and representation In these 13 essays which originally appeared in a wide variety of sources and are edited and updated here the author traces how these changes have transformed qualitative practice in recent years In an era when qualitative inquiry is under fire from conservative governmental and academic bodies he points the way toward the future including a renewed dialogue on paradigmatic pluralism
