Beckoning - Beyond the Horizon Edward G Bottomley,2020-05-04 Beckoning Beyond the Horizon is a sequel to but very different from Beckoning Poetry of Life Taken together the two mainly non fiction books cover aspects of life which impact most if not all of us at some stage The first significant difference is the inclusion of a black and white photograph opposite each page of writing poetry The author was previously a freelance photographer Each photograph relates to the title opposite making for an enhanced reading experience Additionally all the photographs were shot in the three northwestern states of Mexico Chihuahua Sonora and Baja California As such they also provide some sense of that part of the world The area is nicely Beyond the Horizon of the author s home in Sierra Vista Arizona The second major difference is the format The book is the author s creation of a circle of writing where each item moves gradually on from the previous subject until on reaching the last one is connected straight back to the first A sense of this will be gained by scanning the Contents pages The objective of both books is to provide very condensed and hopefully insightful and positive thought stimulation for anyone exploring their personal philosophy of life For busy people there could be a huge time saving compared with researching many of the subjects Both books are indexed for readily accessing any subject of interest In that sense reading may be sequential or as research material by finding the specific subject relevant to life events at any particular time in life The launch price is at approximately a 25% discount from the retail price from early June 2020 onwards    Poet & Painter Gordon
