Becoming Human Ontogenesis Emotionality Philosophical:

Becoming Human Jennifer Greenwood, 2015-12-11 A novel wide ranging and comprehensive account of how human emotionality develops proposing a process in which nature and nurture are integrated In Becoming Human Jennifer Greenwood proposes a novel theory of the development of human emotionality In doing so she makes important contributions to the nature nurture debate in emotion theory and the intracranialist transcranialist debate in philosophy of mind Greenwood shows that the distinction between nature and nurture is unfounded biological and cultural resources are deeply functionally integrated throughout the developmental process She also shows that human emotional and language development are transcranialist achievements human ontogenesis takes place in extended cognitive systems that include environmental technological and sociocultural resources Greenwood tells the story of how each of us becomes a full human being how human brains are constructed and how these brains acquire their contents through massive epigenetic scaffolding After an introduction in which she explains the efficiency of the human newborn as a learning machine Greenwood reviews traditional and contemporary theories of emotion highlighting both strengths and limitations She addresses the intracranialist transcranialist debate arguing that transcranialists have failed to answer important intracranialist objections describes the depth of the functional integration of intraneural and external resources in emotional ontogenesis examines early behavior patterns that provide the basis for the development of language explains the biosemantic theory of representational content and the wider cognitive systems that define it and argues that language production and comprehension are always context dependent Finally in light of the deep and complex functional integration of neural corporeal and sociocultural resources in human ontogenesis she recommends a multidisciplinary collaborative approach for future research New Directions in the Philosophy of Memory Kourken Michaelian, Dorothea Debus, Denis

Perrin, 2018-04-27 Although philosophers have explored memory since antiquity recent years have seen the birth of philosophy of memory as a distinct field This book the first of its kind charts emerging directions of research in the field The book's seventeen newly commissioned chapters develop novel theories of remembering and forgetting analyze the phenomenology and content of memory debate issues in the ethics and epistemology of remembering and explore the relationship between memory and affectivity Written by leading researchers in the philosophy of memory the chapters collectively present an exciting vision of the future of this dynamic area of research The Routledge Handbook of Phenomenology of Emotion Thomas Szanto, Hilge Landweer, 2020-04-22 The emotions occupy a fundamental place in philosophy going back to Aristotle However the phenomenology of the emotions has until recently remained a relatively neglected topic The Routledge Handbook of Phenomenology of Emotion is an outstanding guide and reference source to this important and fascinating topic Comprising forty nine chapters by a team of international contributors this handbook covers the following topics historical perspectives including Brentano Husserl Sartre Levinas and Arendt contemporary debates

The Happiness Problem Sam Wren-Lewis, 2019-11-28 We appear to have more control over our lives than ever before If we could get things right the perfect job relationship family body and mind then we d be happy With enough economic growth and technological innovation we could cure all societal ills The Happiness Problem shows that this way of thinking is too simplistic and can even be harmful no matter how much progress we make we will still be vulnerable to disappointment loss and suffering The things we do to make ourselves happy are merely the tip of the iceberg Sam Wren Lewis offers an alternative process that acknowledges insecurity and embraces uncertainty Drawing on our psychological capacities for curiosity and compassion he proposes that we can connect with and gain a deeper understanding of the personal and social challenges that define our time

Emotions, Community, and Citizenship Rebecca Kingston, Kiran Banerjee, James McKee, Yi-Chun Chien, Constantine C.
