Alvaro Mutis:

The Mansion Álvaro Mutis, 2003 The Mansion is a series of poetic linked stories of a fabulist nature by Latin America's esteemed Alvaro Mutis. In The Mansion Mutis introduces the odd characters who inhabit a large house on a coffee plantation owned by the distasteful Don Graci and relates the unfortunate events which force its abandonment.

The Adventures and Misadventures of Maqroll Álvaro Mutis, 2002-02-01 Maqroll the Gaviero the Lookout is one of the most alluring and memorable characters in the fiction of the last twenty-five years. His extravagant and hopeless undertakings, his brushes with the law and scrapes with death and his enduring friendships and unlooked-for love affairs make him a Don Quixote for our day, driven from one place to another by a restless and irregular quest for the absolute. Alvaro Mutis's seven dazzling chronicles of the adventures and misadventures of Maqroll have won him numerous honors and a passionately devoted readership throughout the world. Here for the first time in English all these wonderful stories appear in a single volume in Edith Grossman's prize-winning translation.

Maqroll Álvaro Mutis, 1992 Haunting, sensuous and romantic, these three novellas feature an original and charismatic hero called Maqroll the Gaviero the Lookout, adventurer, sailor, intense and devoted but temporary lover, loyal friend, student of Saint Francis and entrepreneur of dubious schemes.

Maqroll Alvaro Mutis, 1993

The History of Journalism in Latin America Rick Rockwell, 2025-03-24 From the deserts of northern Mexico to as far south as the Rio Plata in Argentina, this book traces the history of journalism in Latin America from its earliest roots and examines how it relates to the modern importance of media in the twenty-first century. By exploring mestizo roots, The History of Journalism in Latin America examines Indigenous foundations, pre-colonial methods and post-colonial systems of communication to show how earlier publications became instrumental to regional nineteenth-century independence movements throughout Latin America. Although the history of communication in the region is characterized by the control and censorship of empires, be they Indigenous or European, this study argues that modern journalism at its core is the story of crusading for freedom and independence. Through a country-by-country approach, this book explores key themes such as family media empires in Mexico, newspaper competition in Brazil, the dissemination of political agendas in Colombia's El Espectador and conservative media outlets in Argentina and Chile. It demonstrates the varied roles of media businesses, societal forces and institutions of governmental change. This volume is the perfect introduction to the history of journalism and media in Latin America for students.

The Adventures of Maqroll Álvaro Mutis, 1995 Four novellas featuring Maqroll, an international adventurer. One moment he is smuggling arms for liberation groups, the next digging for gold in the jungles of Peru, nearly getting himself killed by his woman gone mad. The tale of a man without a country who recognizes no law but that of fortune. By the author of Maqroll, a Colombian born Mexican.

Latin America's New Historical Novel Seymour Menton, 1993-01-01 Beginning with the 1979 publication of Alejo Carpentier's El arpa y la sombra, the New Historical Novel has become the dominant genre within Latin American fiction. In this at times tongue-in-cheek postmodern study, Seymour

Menton explores why the New Historical Novel has achieved such popularity and offers discerning readings of numerous works. Menton argues persuasively that the proximity of the Columbus Quincentennial triggered the rise of the New Historical Novel. After defining the historical novel in general, he identifies the distinguishing features of the New Historical Novel. Individual chapters delve deeply into such major works as Mario Vargas Llosa's La guerra del fin del mundo, Abel Posse's Los perros del paraíso, Gabriel García Márquez's El general en su laberinto, and Carlos Fuentes's La campana A. A chapter on the Jewish Latin American novel focuses on several works that deserve greater recognition, such as Pedro Orgambide's Aventuras de Edmund Ziller en tierras del Nuevo Mundo, Moacyr Scliar's A estranha nação de Rafael Mendes, and Angelina Muniz's Tierra adentro.

South American Cinema Tim Barnard, Peter Rist, 1996. A filmography of South American motion pictures.

Mourning El Dorado Charlotte Rogers, 2019-06-13. What ever happened to the legend of El Dorado, the tale of the mythical city of gold lost in the Amazon jungle? Charlotte Rogers argues that El Dorado has not been forgotten and still inspires the reckless pursuit of illusory wealth. The search for gold in South America during the colonial period inaugurated the promise of El Dorado, the belief that wealth and happiness can be found in the tropical forests of the Americas. That assumption has endured over the course of centuries, still evident in the various modes of natural resource extraction, such as oil drilling and mining, that characterize the region today. Mourning El Dorado looks at how fiction from the American tropics, written since 1950, engages with the promise of El Dorado in the age of the Anthropocene. Just as the golden kingdom was never found, natural resource extraction has not produced wealth and happiness for the peoples of the tropics. While extractivism enriches a few outsiders, it results in environmental degradation and the subjugation, displacement, and forced assimilation of native peoples. This book considers how the fiction of five writers—Alejo Carpentier, Wilson Harris, Mario Vargas Llosa, Ivano Vukasović, and Milton Hatoum—criticizes extractive practices and mourns the lost illusion of the forest as a place of wealth and happiness.
