Bruce Jenner April 2015:

How Pop Culture Shapes the Stages of a Woman's Life Melissa Ames, Sarah Burcon, 2016-03-15 Contemporary popular culture has created a slew of stereotypical roles for girls and women to willingly or not play throughout their lives The Princess the Nymphette the Diva the Single Girl the Bridezilla the Tiger Mother the MILF the Cougar and more In this book Ames and Burcon investigate the role of cultural texts in gender socialization at specific pre scripted stages of a woman's life from girls to the golden girls and how that instruction compounds over time By studying various texts toys magazines blogs tweets television shows Hollywood films novels and self help books they argue that popular culture exists as a type of funhouse mirror constantly distorting the real world conditions that exist for women magnifying the gendered expectations they face Despite the many problematic conflicting messages women receive throughout their lives this book also showcases the ways such messages are resisted allowing women to move past the blurry reality they broadcast and toward hopefully gender equality

Metanoia Adam Ellwanger, 2020-02-25 Western culture is in a moment when wholly new kinds of personal transformations are possible but authentic transformation requires both personal testimony and public recognition In this book Adam Ellwanger takes a distinctly rhetorical approach to analyzing how the personal and the public relate to an individual's transformation and develops a new vocabulary that enables a critical assessment of the concept of authenticity The concept of metanoia is central to this project Charting the history of metanoia from its original use in the classical tradition to its adoption by early Christians as a term for religious conversion Ellwanger shows that metanoia involves a change within a person that results in a truer version of him or herself a change in character or ethos He then applies this theory to our contemporary moment finding that metanoia provides unique insight into modern forms of self transformation Drawing on ancient and medieval sources including Thucydides Plato Paul the Apostle and Augustine as well as contemporary discourses of self transformation such as the public testimonies of Caitlyn Jenner and Rachel Dolezal Ellwanger elucidates the role of language in signifying and authenticating identity Timely and original Ellwanger's study formulates a transhistorical theory of personal transformation that will be of interest to scholars working in social theory philosophy rhetoric and the history of Christianity

The Politics of Recognition in the Age of Digital Spaces Benjamin JJ Carpenter, 2023-09-15 This book provides a philosophical analysis of the notion of selfhood that underlies identity politics It offers a unique theory of the self that combines previous scholarly work on recognition and the phenomenology of space The politics of identity occupy the centre of a contested terrain Marginalised and oppressed peoples continue to seek the transformation of our shared social world and our political institutions required for their lives to be liveable Public criticism and academic treatments of identity politics often take a disparaging view that treats it as subordinate to more general political questions about justice and the organisation of society and its institutions This book argues that these polemics ignore the numerous ways in which all politics is concerned with matters of selfhood and identity Through a rereading of Hegel's account of recognition as an ongoing and dynamic process that constitutes the self it presents selves and the categories of identity that qualify these selves as fundamentally conditioned by the environments in which they appear before themselves and others. It also argues that we do the work of identity in public spaces particularly digital spaces and that these spaces shape what identities we can assume and what those identities mean. Contemporary social media technologies facilitate the production of particular forms of selfhood through the combined logics of the interface the profile and the post. The Politics of Recognition in the Age of Digital Spaces will be of interest to scholars and advanced students working in a wide range of disciplines including political philosophy phenomenology philosophy of technology sociology political theory and critical theory. It will also appeal to anyone with an interest in contemporary identity politics whether as a matter of study or lived experience.

From the cinematic borderlands of independent film festivals to wider public recognition via digital technologies the genre encompasses a diverse range of texts from short films documentaries experimental films to feature films and narratives that range across life histories narratives and themes. The book presents transliteracy as an original theoretical approach to reading film representations of the Trans New Wave and combines it with a new theoretical concept of cinematic ethnogenesis to investigate how the genre emerged from specific communities and the reciprocal interaction of audiences and texts. This interdisciplinary volume engages with contemporary issues of gender diversity transgender studies screen and media studies and film festival studies and as such will be of great interest to scholars working in these fields and in media and cultural studies more generally.

Outsiders Zachary Kramer, 2019-01-23 What is the future of civil rights? Like a living thing discrimination evolves adapting to its time. As discrimination becomes more individualized as difference becomes more pronounced we need a civil rights that is attuned to the way identity is performed today. Outsiders is filled with stories that demand attention stories of people whose search for identity has cast them to the margins. Their stories reveal that we need to refresh our vision of civil rights. Taking its cue from religious discrimination law Outsiders proposes two major changes to civil rights law. The first is a right to personality. Identity comes from within. The goal of civil rights law should be to take people as they come to let each of us determine who we are and how we relate to the world around us. The second change is a shift in how the law responds to discrimination. The critical question driving equality law should be whether there is space to accommodate a person's identity. Accommodations are about respecting difference not erasing it. Accommodations are a way to bring outsiders in. Outsiders seeks to change the way we think about identity equality and discrimination. It argues that difference not sameness should be the cornerstone of civil rights. Mixing doctrine and theory art and personal narrative Outsiders proposes a civil rights for everyone. Being different is
