atmosphere of human activity and social refinement is needed to stimulate intellectual culture and invigorate moral character and accordingly this beautiful and prosperous city which has since become even more conspicuously a centre of elevating influences was chosen as its seat Far enough West to feel the thrill of enterprise and to share in the optimistic hopes of Western life without being subject to its provincialisms far enough East to enjoy the benefits of our oldest American civilization without being influenced by its archaic customs and colonial traditions Rochester on the principal highway between the great lakes and the Atlantic satisfies all the conditions of an ideal university town The company of men who have shaped the destinies of this institution was originally formed by the selective power of a common conviction that a great opportunity creates a great obligation and the corporation has since been recruited from among those who shared in this conviction The not inconsiderable resources which years of generosity and prudence have accumulated are mainly the continued tokens of the satisfaction and perseverance with which the fathers of the enterprise themselves and their colleagues in munificence have regarded their undertaking About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works

Literature and the American College Irving Babbitt, 2015-07-13 Excerpt from Literature and the American College Essays in Defense of the Humanities Nearly half the matter in this volume has been printed elsewhere The Rational Study of the Classics Literature and the College and On Being Original are reproduced with immaterial changes from the Atlantic Monthly Two papers in the Nation are combined with a great deal of new material in the essay on Literature and the Doctor's Degree Portions of the essays on Ancients and Moderns and Academic Leisure are taken from two articles in the Harvard Graduates Magazine I wish to thank the publishers of these periodicals for permission to reprint I have often been forced in these essays to tread on burning ground at the risk of giving offense to some of my readers I may at least say that my aim has been to define types and tendencies and not to satirize or even label individuals Individuals are usually not easy to label especially at a time like the present A highly unified age may offer examples of highly unified personalities but there is likely to exist in the individual of to day the same confused conflict of tendencies that we see in the larger world About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections
