From Abraham to David Henry A. Harper, 2015-07-08 Excerpt from From Abraham to David The Story of Their Country and Times Did it ever occur to you when reading the Old Testament that the books are chiefly biographical a series of word pictures of the lives of men some great some good many bad It gives terse accounts of nations shows their origin rise and fall and all this was written for our learning Do you really feel that all these accounts are true You who know the history of Rome and Greece and are familiar with the story of Romulus and Remus of Caesar of Antony Trajan blind old Belisarius and a host of others Your hearts beat as you realise the struggles the combats the whole life of these heroes You study the lives of Leonidas of Socrates of Xenophon and you believe what you read You take up the father of history and you know that Herodotus full of interest as his pages are is now found to be more truthful than at one time he was thought to be Yet there were warriors as brave heroes as daring poets as fine as any that those Greeks or Romans tell of and Old Testament stories are true About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works

Devotional Commentary on the Gospel Narrative, Vol. 1 of 8 \(Classic Reprint\) Isaac Williams, 1880 Excerpt from Devotional Commentary on the Gospel Narrative Vol 1 of 8 Indistinct surmises of some one rising from the dead and of that Prophet to be raised up from among their brethren of whom Moses had spoken instead of the Voice from Mount Sinai which they entreated to hear no more And the words with which the Inspired Writings had closed were remarkable both from their distinct declaration and for the very mysterious manner in which alone it could be fulfilled As the silence of night came on and the light of prophecy was going down it spoke of the rising of the Sun of Righteousness with healing in His wings and yet not so for all men but for them shall He arise that fear My name To this it is added Behold I send you Elijah the Prophet before the coming of the great and About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
