Encyclopedia of Contemporary Literary Theory Irene Rima Makaryk,1993-01-01 The last half of the twentieth century has seen the emergence of literary theory as a new discipline As with any body of scholarship various schools of thought exist and sometimes conflict within it I R Makaryk has compiled a welcome guide to the field Accessible and jargon free the Encyclopedia of Contemporary Literary Theory provides lucid concise explanations of myriad approaches to literature that have arisen over the past forty years Some 170 scholars from around the world have contributed their expertise to this volume Their work is organized into three parts In Part I forty evaluative essays examine the historical and cultural context out of which new schools of and approaches to literature arose The essays also discuss the uses and limitations of the various schools and the key issues they address Part II focuses on individual theorists It provides a more detailed picture of the network of scholars not always easily pigeonholed into the categories of Part I This second section analyses the individual achievements as well as the influence of specific scholars and places them in a larger critical context Part III deals with the vocabulary of literary theory It identifies significant complex terms places them in context and explains their origins and use Accessibility is a key feature of the work By avoiding jargon providing mini bibliographies and cross referencing throughout Makaryk has provided an indispensable tool for literary theorists and historians and for all scholars and students of contemporary criticism and culture

African American Women Writers' Historical Fiction A. Nunes,2011-05-09 This volume explores African American historical fiction written by women in the last four decades of the twentieth century Nunes approach to the texts aims at emphasizing the narrative and thematic achievements of individual novels set in the context of the main trends and developments of the contemporary African American historical novel Literary Criticisms of Law Guyora Binder,Robert Weisberg,2000-02-22 In this book the first to offer a comprehensive examination of the emerging study of law as literature Guyora Binder and Robert Weisberg show that law is not only a scheme of social order but also a process of creating meaning and a crucial dimension of modern culture They present lawyers as literary innovators who creatively interpret legal authority narrate disputed facts and hypothetical fictions represent persons before the law move audiences with artful rhetoric and invent new legal forms and concepts Binder and Weisberg explain the literary theories and methods increasingly applied to law and they introduce and synthesize the work of over a hundred authors in the fields of law literature philosophy and cultural studies Drawing on these disparate bodies of scholarship Binder and Weisberg analyze law as interpretation narration rhetoric language and culture placing each of these approaches within the history of literary and legal thought They sort the styles of analysis most likely to sharpen critical understanding from those that risk self indulgent sentimentalism or sterile skepticism and they endorse a broadly synthetic cultural criticism that views law as an arena for composing and contesting identity status and character Such a cultural criticism would evaluate law not simply as a device for realizing rights and interests but also as the framework for a vibrant cultural life
