Absolution, 2009      Absolution Carom Ramsay, Highly literate and entirely engrossing One of the year's best literary thrillers The Washington Post It's twenty years since police detective Alan McAlpine has set foot in Patrickhill Station and more than twenty years since he fell forever in love with the mute faceless woman he called Anna as she lay dying in Glasgow's Western Infirmary Daily he'd watched over her and they had begun to communicate with each other she by moving her wounded fingers Her fingers could not tell the sad unseasoned police cadet her name however or name for him the father of her newborn baby girl or identify the assailants who had flung the acid in her once incomparably beautiful face Or tell him how she'd smuggled a cache of uncut diamonds into Scotland Now McAlpine is back in Patrickhill where he's been summoned to head up the investigation of a disturbing murder case Two women their arms outstretched their legs together and feet crossed at the ankle have already died at the hands of a man the press has tagged the Crucifixion Killer With crimes in the present continually detouring both McAlpine and the elusive killer he pursues into an unredeemed past the mystery in this steely piercing psychological thriller is as gripping as its twists are surprising And absolution proves to be extreme
