Wildlife and Wind Farms - Conflicts and Solutions Martin Perrow, 2019-08-01 Wind farms are an essential component of global renewable energy policy and the action to limit the effects of climate change. There is however considerable concern over the impacts of wind farms on wildlife leading to a wide range of research and monitoring studies a growing body of literature and several international conferences on the topic. This unique multi volume work provides a comprehensive overview of the interactions between wind farms and wildlife. Volume 4 provides a state of the science guide to monitoring and mitigation to minimise or even eliminate impacts on wildlife from offshore wind farms. The survey and monitoring section includes detailed chapters on fish and invertebrate communities, marine mammals and seabirds and a chapter dedicated to the use of tracking technology applied to birds. The section continues with a chapter on collision risk and population modelling that underpins much current impact assessment and a chapter detailing how collision risk for birds and bats may be monitored at sea. The mitigation section comprises chapters outlining mitigation options and strategies for birds and bats and how to mitigate the effects of noise especially during construction on marine mammals and fish. A chapter on perspectives on marine spatial planning as applied to wind farms concludes the volume. The authors have been carefully selected from across the globe from the large number of academics, consultants and practitioners now engaged in wind farm studies for their influential contribution to the science. Edited by Martin Perrow and with contributions by over 40 leading researchers including Aonghais Cook, Thomas Dahlgren, Johann Kappel, Meike Scheidat, Henrik Skov, Chris Thaxter as well as several leading consultancies. Each chapter includes informative figures, tables, photographs and detailed case studies. Several of the latter are produced stand alone from invited specialists to ensure geographic spread and to showcase exciting new research. This book is designed as the definitive guide on the topic for practitioners, researchers, managers and planners as well as students in higher education engaged in studies of the environment, ecology, climate change, conservation and impact assessment. Other volumes: Volume 1 Onshore Potential Effects 978 1 78427 119 0; Volume 2 Onshore Monitoring and Mitigation 978 1 78427 123 7; Volume 3 Offshore Potential Effects 978 1 78427 127 5. From Science to Society Benoît Otjacques, Patrik Hitzelberger, Stefan Naumann, Volker Wohlgemuth, 2017-08-23 This book presents the latest findings and ongoing research in connection with green information systems and green information communication technology (ICT). It provides valuable insights into a broad range of cross cutting concerns in ICT and the environmental sciences and showcases how ICT can be used to effectively address environmental and energy efficiency issues. Offering a selection of extended contributions to the 31st International Conference EnviroInfo 2017 it is essential reading for anyone looking to expand their expertise in the area. Kartographische Oberflächen Wolf-Dieter Rasse, 2016-02-22 Der Text wendet sich an Nutzer von Geo Informationssystemen die kontinuierliche Oberflächen aus unregelmäßigen verteilten Datenpunkten oder aus Polygonen mit einem aufsummierten Datenwert erzeugen wollen. Grave Disturbances Edeltraud Aspöck, Alison Klevnäs, Nils

Müller-Scheeßel, 2020-07-31 Archaeologists excavating burials often find that they are not the first to disturb the remains of the dead Graves from many periods frequently show signs that others have been digging and have moved or taken away parts of the original funerary assemblage Displaced bones and artefacts traces of pits and damage to tombs or coffins can all provide clues about post burial activities The last two decades have seen a rapid rise in interest in the study of post depositional practices in graves which has now developed into a new subfield within mortuary archaeology This follows a long tradition of neglect with disturbed graves previously regarded as interesting only to the degree they revealed evidence of the original funerary deposit This book explores past human interactions with mortuary deposits delving into the different ways graves and human remains were approached by people in the past and the reasons that led to such encounters The primary focus of the volume is on cases of unexpected interference with individual graves soon after burial re encounters with human remains not anticipated by those who performed the funerary rites and constructed the tombs However a first step is always to distinguish these from natural and accidental processes and methodological approaches are a major theme of discussion Interactions with the remains of the dead are explored in eleven chapters ranging from the New Kingdom of Egypt to Viking Age Norway and from Bronze Age Slovakia to the ancient Maya Each discusses cases of re entries into graves including desecration tomb re use destruction of grave contents as well as the removal of artefacts and human remains for reasons from material gain to commemoration symbolic appropriation ancestral rites political chicanery and retrieval of relics The introduction presents many of the methodological issues which recur throughout the contributions as this is a developing area with new approaches being applied to analyze post depositional processes in graves

Extracting Spatial Information from Historical Maps Benedikt Budig, 2018-11-23

Historical maps are fascinating documents and a valuable source of information for scientists of various disciplines Many of these maps are available as scanned bitmap images but in order to make them searchable in useful ways a structured representation of the contained information is desirable This book deals with the extraction of spatial information from historical maps. This cannot be expected to be solved fully automatically since it involves difficult semantics but is also too tedious to be done manually at scale. The methodology used in this book combines the strengths of both computers and humans: it describes efficient algorithms to largely automate information extraction tasks and pairs these algorithms with smart user interactions to handle what is not understood by the algorithm. The effectiveness of this approach is shown for various kinds of spatial documents from the 16th to the early 20th century.

Innovations and challenges of the energy transition in smart city districts Sven Leonhardt, Tobias Nusser, Jürgen Görres, Sven Rosinger, Gerhard Stryi-Hipp, Martin Eckhard, 2023-12-31. As living economic and cultural spaces, cities require a sustainable energy system and must be designed to be highly energy efficient. The book provides a framework for practitioners and scientists on how the energy transition can contribute to achieving climate goals in the building sector. Innovations and creative approaches for solutions from the lighthouse projects of the Solar Building Energy Efficient City funding initiative are presented.

Multiple Knowledges. Learning from/with Other Beings Joanna Godlewicz-Adamiec, Paweł Piszczałkowski, Justyna Włodarczyk, Piotr Kociumbas, 2022-04-11. This issue of Transpositiones showcases a range of interdisciplinary and critical approaches to classic and alternative conceptions of cognition and sources of knowledge. The articles reflect on the many types of sensory and extrasensory knowledge available to non-human beings and wonder whether and in what ways can we as humans perceive, conceptualize and respect these knowledges. The authors highlight how the existence of multiple knowledges questions species boundaries and onto and epistemological perspectives in the process of learning not only about other beings but also from and along with them. This selection of texts attempts to contribute to overcoming the anthropocentric perception of subjectivity and to the abandoning of an optics based on the dualisms of nature and culture, spirit and matter, subject and object, animate and inanimate, nature, physis and techne, etc. which are so firmly entrenched in the Western intellectual tradition.
