

SECTION 1 – GENERAL

1.1 Submission of PPAP

The organization shall obtain approval (see 5.2.1) from the authorized customer representative for:

1. a new part or product (e.g., a specific part, material, or color not previously supplied to the specific customer).
2. correction of a discrepancy on a previously submitted part.
3. product modified by an engineering change to design records, specifications, or materials.
4. any situation required by Section 3.

NOTE: If there is any question concerning the need for production part approval, contact the authorized customer representative.

SECTION 2 – PPAP PROCESS REQUIREMENTS

2.1 Significant Production Run

For production parts: product for PPAP shall be taken from a significant production run. This significant production run shall be from one hour to eight hours of production, and with the specific production quantity to total a minimum of 300 consecutive parts, unless otherwise specified by the authorized customer representative.

This significant production run shall be conducted at the production site, at the production rate (see Glossary) using the production tooling, production gaging, production process, production materials, and production operators. Parts from each unique production process, e.g., duplicate assembly line and/or work cell, each position of a multiple cavity die, mold, tool or pattern, shall be measured and representative parts tested.

For bulk materials: No specific number of “parts” is required. The submitted sample shall be taken in a manner as to assure that it represents “steady-state” operation of the process.

NOTE: For bulk material, production histories of current products may often be used to estimate the initial process capability or performance of new and similar products. In cases where no production history of a similar bulk material product or technology exists, a containment plan may be put into effect until sufficient production has demonstrated capability or performance, unless otherwise specified by the customer.

2.2 PPAP Requirements

The organization shall meet all specified PPAP requirements listed below (2.2.1 through 2.2.18). The organization shall also meet all customer-specific PPAP requirements.

Production parts shall meet all customer engineering design record and specification requirements (including safety and regulatory requirements).

Bulk Material PPAP requirements are defined by a completed Bulk Material Requirements Checklist (see Appendix F).
