Peer-to-peer Accommodation and Community Resilience Anna Farmaki, Dimitri Ioannides, Stella Kladou, 2022-03-16

The growth of peer to peer P2P accommodation has been remarkable. However the rapid expansion of the phenomenon has yielded several concerns over its potentially negative economic, social and environmental impacts. These impacts are highlighted in policy agendas as an emerging problem encountered by many local communities in destinations experiencing a boom in P2P accommodation. Specifically concerns have been raised over the impact of the growth of P2P accommodation on local housing markets, residents' well-being and the environment as a result of the touristification of residential areas. In fact, many observers accuse P2P accommodation of fuelling the overtourism problem that several destinations face. This edited book addresses the need to examine the P2P accommodation phenomenon from a community resilience lens. In particular, through a collection of chapters presenting a range of empirical and conceptual perspectives from urban and rural communities, the book considers the implications of P2P accommodation growth on the resilience of local communities and the sustainable development of places.

Hospitality, Home and Life in the Platform Economies of Tourism Maartje Roelofsen, 2022-05-20

This book explores how digital platforms in the realm of tourism and hospitality have shaped social and material worlds. Based on extensive ethnographic fieldwork with hosts and guests, the book analyses the impacts of platforms on the scale of the city, the home and the everyday life of individuals. The book first situates platforms within the broader history of digital developments in tourism and questions what is essentially new about these socio-technical formations. The following chapters demonstrate how platforms have affected urban housing, challenged the tourism sector and transformed understandings of hospitality and home. This is illustrated through a case study of Airbnb's development and impact in Sofia, Bulgaria. The final chapters of the book reflect on the political dimensions of datafication processes and digital systems of measurement that underpin the platform's workings, showing how the platform economies of tourism benefit their users in highly uneven ways.

Shaping Smart for Better Cities Alessandro Aurigi, Nancy Odendaal, 2020-11-14

Shaping Smart for Better Cities powerfully demonstrates the range of theoretical and practical challenges, opportunities and success factors involved in successfully deploying digital technologies in cities, focusing on the importance of recognizing local context and multi-layered urban relationships in designing successful urban interventions. The first section, Rethinking Smart in Places, interrogates the smart city from a theoretical vantage point. The second part, Shaping Smart Places, examines various case studies critically. Hence the volume offers an intellectual resource that expands on the current literature but also provides a pedagogical resource to universities as well as a reflective opportunity for practitioners. The cases allow for an examination of the practical implications of smart interventions in space whilst the theoretical reflections enable expansion of the literature. Students are encouraged to learn from case studies and apply that learning in design. Academics will gain from the learning embedded in the documentation of the case studies in different geographic contexts while practitioners can apply their learning to the conceptualisation of new forms of technology use Demonstrates how to adapt smart urban interventions for hyper local context in geographic parameters spatial relationships and socio political characteristics Provides a problem solving approach based on specific smart place examples applicable to real life urban management Offers insights from numerous case studies of smart cities interventions in real civic spaces
