Apple Success Story:

Globalization and Apple's respond to the international Game Sascha Schneiders, 2010-09-15 Seminar paper from the year 2010 in the subject Business economics Economic Policy grade 1 5 Leeds Metropolitan University language English abstract Globalization is a defining word of our age and the way in which we live It affects people companies their workforce and consumers Globalization affects all aspects not just of the corporate world but transactional and cultural relationships generally And as a consequence it affects how we live and how we interact no matter where we live This is background wherefore it has a great impact on our life and how we interact no matter where we live The study of transaction takes place in form of trade across national borders for the purpose of satisfying the needs of individuals and organizations According to Milton Friedman it is now possible to produce a product anywhere by a business located anywhere using resources from anywhere to be sold anywhere Roosa 2008 p 182 All Apple products as well as the iPod are developed designed and market in house by Apple's headquarter located in Cupertino USA but simultaneously outsourced the remaining four hundred plus intermediate components to both domestic and international subcontractors The story of internationalization starts with the microchip that makes the music player go It is subcontracted by another Silicon Valley company called Portalplayer which outsourced the microchip's production to Taiwan Even the operating Software is written by engineers in India which are cheaper than their American Colleagues Together with the iPods fabulous operating system which makes the product easy to use the microchip is sent to a warehouse located in Hong Kong until the component is delivered to Apple's outsourced production plant Linden et al 2007 A few of the iPod components are high cost The hard drive flashmemory function as temporary storage are manufactured by Toshiba in Japan and Samsung in Korea The majority of components are low cost For instance the metal parts are made by Foxconn in Taiwan and the plastic components are produced in Singapore which developed from a low cost manufacturing platform to a higher value added manufacturing centre Brown 1998 p 198 All components are assembled in the outsourced production plant in Shanghai The transportation company Fed Ex delivers the finished iPod to the worldwide 246 Apple stores and other electronic stores Kahney 2008 p 86 Insanely Simple Ken Segall, 2012-04-26 To Steve Jobs Simplicity was a religion It was also a weapon Simplicity isn't just a design principle at Apple it's a value that permeates every level of the organization The obsession with Simplicity is what separates Apple from other technology companies It's what helped Apple recover from near death in 1997 to become the most valuable company on Earth in 2011 Thanks to Steve Jobs's uncompromising ways you can see Simplicity in everything Apple does the way it's structured the way it innovates and the way it speaks to its customers It's by crushing the forces of Complexity that the company remains on its stellar trajectory As ad agency creative director Ken Segall played a key role in Apple's resurrection helping to create such critical marketing campaigns as Think different By naming the iMac he also laid the foundation for naming waves of i products to come Segall has a unique perspective given his years of experience creating campaigns for other iconic tech companies including IBM Intel and Dell It was the stark contrast of Apple's ways that made Segall appreciate the power of Simplicity and inspired him to help others benefit from it In Insanely Simple you'll be a fly on the wall inside a conference room with Steve Jobs and on the receiving end of his midnight phone calls You'll understand how his obsession with Simplicity helped Apple perform better and faster sometimes saving millions in the process You'll also learn for example how to Think Minimal Distilling choices to a minimum brings clarity to a company and its customers as Jobs proved when he replaced over twenty product models with a lineup of four Think Small Swearing allegiance to the concept of small groups of smart people raises both morale and productivity Think Motion Keeping project teams in constant motion focuses creative thinking on well defined goals and minimizes distractions Think Iconic Using a simple powerful image to symbolize the benefit of a product or idea creates a deeper impression in the minds of customers Think War Giving yourself an unfair advantage using every weapon at your disposal is the best way to ensure that your ideas survive unscathed Segall brings Apple's quest for Simplicity to life using fascinating and previously untold stories from behind the scenes Through his insight and wit you'll discover how companies that leverage this power can stand out from competitors and individuals who master it can become critical assets to their organizations

Key Success Factors of New Products / Product Innovations Raffaele Aledda, 2010-10-20 Bachelor Thesis from the year 2007 in the subject Business economics Offline Marketing and Online Marketing grade 1.7 International University of Applied Sciences language English abstract The new information age has seen an impressive shift to global markets and cross border competition resulting in customers increased expectations for higher quality products competitive prices and better and faster services Hence companies aiming at striving success are focussing more and more on generating fast innovative and efficient solutions to satisfy customers expectations and to create value for shareholder In view of that the quest for new products capable to bestow the company with the differential advantage to position itself against its competitors has never been more critical than ever before. However, although innovations are generally seen as the engine of growth, only a small number survive the first year and generate significant value for shareholders. Thus, managers all around the world are keen to identify key factors of success to reduce uncertainty in the new product development process. Yet history teaches us that product innovation is a complex and dynamic process whose success is difficult to measure, to forecast, and which calls for talented managers capable to identify and harmonize an array of exogenous, endogenous, and consumer perception factors of success simultaneously. Most notably, consumers' perception is difficult to map and far more complex to manage. Only new products and innovations that timely offer superior and unique benefits that are perceived as such by customers are marketable and sustainable in the long run and thus generate value for shareholders.

Proceedings of the 2024 4th International Conference on Enterprise Management and Economic Development (ICEMED 2024) Hongbing Cheng, Sikandar Ali Qalati, Noor Sharoja Binti Sapiei, Mazni Binti Abdullah, 2024-08-31. This is an open access book. 2024 4th International Conference on Enterprise Management and Economic Development ICEMED2024 will be held grandly in Jinan, China, from May 24 to 26, 2024. Enterprise management is the general term for a series of functions such as organizing, planning, commanding, supervising, and regulating the production and operation activities of enterprises. Relative to economic growth, economic development is the core concept of development economics. Economic development refers to the high quality development of the economy, including quality and quantity, rather than merely the growth of quantity. Enterprise management covers economics management, business management, financial management, human resource management, and other aspects and is a comprehensive interdisciplinary science that spans natural science, engineering science, technical science, and humanities and social science. Enterprise management comes into being with the development of modern socialized mass production. The use of modern management means and methods to manage enterprises ensures the survival and development of enterprises and plays a positive role in promoting economic development. ICEMED2024 will bring together experts and scholars from relevant fields to discuss the relationship between enterprise management and economic development. Reasonable enterprise management is an important way to promote the economic development of enterprises. Scientific and reasonable use of industrial and commercial enterprise management knowledge can reasonably carry out effective macro control on the enterprise economy and ensure the stable progress and development of the enterprise economy. ICEMED 2024 provides a platform in order to create an international forum for sharing research and exchange so that participants can understand the latest research directions, results, and contents of enterprise management and economic development so as to stimulate them to generate new research ideas. Promote economic development by studying the problems existing in enterprise management. Open a new perspective, broaden our horizons, and understand the issues being studied by scholars in relevant fields. ICEMED 2024 warmly invites you to participate in and look forward to seeing you in
